Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—Prof. Jenny and party leave Cheyenne to-day for the Black Hills.

—The jury in Father Gerdeman's case in Philadelphia could not agree, and were discharged.

—J. D. Morris, member of Congress from Ohio, in 1851, died in Connorsville, Ind., last Sunday night.

—The German Roman Catholic Benevolent Association, in session in Cincinnati, held its first business meeting yesterday.

—The opinion of the Court of Claims in the Pacific Railroad transportation cases will not be announced before next Monday, to which time the Court adjourned.

—A prominent gentleman of Cincinnati offers to give one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars towards the erection of a capacious music hall in that city.

—The Union Pacific Railroad Company, who have obtained a patent for the odd section on which a portion of Cheyenne is located, sold one hundred and four lots, aggregating $19,250.

—Parties have been arriving at Cheyenne daily for the past three weeks, who intend going to the Black Hills as soon as the Government permits them. About fifty arrived there on Monday on the Kansas Pacific Railroad.

—Captain Eads, Colonel Andrews, Captain Boflinger and party returned to New Orleans from the Passes on Monday. Captain Eads reports the condition of affairs there more favorable for the opening of the jetty work than he had anticipated. He has no doubt that within twelve months he will have twenty feet of water in the Pass. The Government engineers will complete the surveys by Friday.

—The Governor of Missouri has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the State to observe Thursday, June 3d, as a day of humiliation, fasting and prayer. Information comes to him from all sources that the State is threatened with a grasshopper pestilence, to be followed by a failure of the crops, great distress and possible famine. "Nothing but the interposition of Providence can save us from the pest," and the Governor recommends that the supplications of the people he raised for Divine relief and protection.

STATE BREVITIES.

WEST Elizabethians sigh for a lock-up.

A NEW order of K. of P. has been organized.

PAUL BOYTON received his education at St. Francis College, Lorretto.

THERE is considerable discussion going on in the oil regions on the question whether or not the Wallace bill does repeal the Free Pipe Bill.

JOSEPH PORCY, aged 102 years, died in Crawford county the other day. He was a Frenchman, had been married twice, and had enjoyed eighty-five years of connubial bliss.

A YOUNG lady of Carlisle "walked in her sleep" and built a fire of old newspapers under her sewing machine. She knew nothing of it until next morning when the ashes were found; then she remembered of having dreamed of doing this. By good luck alone the house was not burned down.

THE remains of General David Mead who had been buried in Meadville about 59 years ago, were removed one day last week. With the exception, says the Republican, of the bones, teeth and hair, dust had returned to dust. Little else was left of the man, who, 70 years ago was a large, vigorous and powerful man. He stood six feet and three inches in his stockings, and required, at his death, a coffin eight feet long. The remains were carefully gathered up and removed to Greendale Cemetery.

The Longest Balloon Voyage.

The longest balloon voyage ever made has just been accomplished by some members of the French Aerial Navigation Society, who have resolved to undertake a series of night ascents for the purpose of spectroscopic and electrical observations. The balloon, which was called the Zenith, contained five passengers, and started from Paris, descending near Bordeaux in 28 hours. Several valuable discoveries were made during the trip. The aeronauts met with currents of air in different direction when sailing over the Landes. In the higher regions a hot wind directed them to the ocean, and lower down, at 100 metres (about 300 feet) from the earth, a cool breeze took them inland. During the night a clear moon enabled them to see the earth, and about 5 A. M. the moon was encircled by a splendid cruciform halo. The balloon crossed the river Gironde in 35 minutes, and four pigeons were dispatched, none of which, however, have yet reached home. The lowest temperature experienced was four degrees below zero (cent.) during the night. Anent balloons, the cost of one in France appears to be about £200. The silk for the upper part of the balloon is worth 2s. 4d. per yard, and that for the lower portion, which must be considerably stronger, as it has to hold the weight of the car and the ropes, about 2s. 6d. a yard. The ropes and car come to £20 and the labor to £40, and for a balloon of similar size to the Zenith which made so successful voyage last week, 1,260 yards of stuff are required. An attempt to cross the Atlantic will be made in the autumn.—London Graphic.

Ethan Allen's Daughter.

A Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says:—My mother, when a girl, knew Ethan Allen's daughter well. She was an old lady—a Mrs. Hitchcock—and lived in Burlington. She had several sons, one of whom, Ethan Allen Hitchcock, was an officer of rank in the United States Army, having received a thorough West Point education. The other sons, all of whom boasted of unusual stature and manly beauty, were either in the army or navy. The old lady was tall and commanding, with something of her father's determination marked upon her handsome, proud face. She wore turbans, made mostly of white silk, and her dresses were always of those rich rustling silks, worn by stately dames of yore, and called "blue black." She was very interesting in her conversation, and adored the memory of her father, of whom she had an endless fund of anecdotes. One day, Mrs. Hitchcock invited my mother to dine with her, and among the vegetables appeared some delicious early peas—"the first of anybody in town," said the old lady, pleased at the expressions of delight made by her guest; but upon seeing that guest daintily balancing three or four peas at a time on the tip of her fork, she exclaimed: "My dear child, take a spoon like a sensible person, and eat your peas with some degree of comfort. It makes me nervous to see you take so much pains for so little satisfaction."

About Eggs.

A writer in the Medical Journal, discoursing on dyspepsia, says: We have seen dyspeptics who suffered untold torments with almost every kind of food and torments of which they did not tell, after some medicine given for relief. No liquid could be taken without suffering. Bread became a burning acid. Meat and milk were solid and liquid fires. We have seen these same sufferers trying to avoid food and drink and even going to the enema syringe for sustenance. And we have seen their torments pass away and their hunger relieved by living upon the white of eggs, which have been boiled in bubbling water for thirty minutes. At the end of a week we have given the hard yolk of the egg with the white, and upon this diet alone, without fluid of any kind, we have seen them begin to gain flesh and strength and refreshing sleep. After weeks of this treatment they have been able, with care, to begin on other food. And all this, the writer adds, without taking medicine. He says that hard-boiled eggs are not half so bad as half-boiled ones, and ten times as easy to digest as raw eggs, even in egg-nog.

The Cardinal and the Heretics.

Cardinal McCloskey is not fulfilling his sworn oath to follow up and fight against heretics. On the contrary, he was on Thursday the fellow-guest of two noted ones, Dr. Swope, and Dr. Morgan Dix, of Trinity Episcopal Church, at a banquet given by Mr. William O'Brien, a wealthy Catholic banker of New York. He wore his red cap and stockings, but he did not "persecute" at all. The Protestants, if they will forgive us for so calling them, were not seemingly as careful of strict ritual observances as they wanted the restive Cheney to be. He omitted a word or two and suffered for it, while they made their salaams to a hostile dignitary, seated beneath a beretta of red roses suspended from the wall, with the papal arms hanging behind him, and a papal military officer in full uniform in attendance. Both sides united in eating an excellent supper, but we have not heard of any attempt being made to reconcile the opposing churches.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Gen. Sheridan's Bride.

Gen. Sheridan is really to be married, at last, and to a young lady whom Washington girls, at least, have not considered in the light of a rival, for the simple reason that when she left the city a few years ago she was a little girl, wearing her hair plaited in two long braids, and her dresses of a juvenile school-girl length. She was educated, in Georgetown Convent, but after her parents left the city, consequently her young ladyhood years never graced Washington society. Her skin and hair were dark, while her eyes were clear and dark gray. Those who know her well say she is highly accomplished, and quite ready at repartee.

The Crusade Against the Whisky Ring.

New National Banks.

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1875.

New National Banks.

Five new National Banks authorized commence business in various places in New England to-day, besides the German National Bank of Allegheny, Pa., with a capital of $200,000.

The Whisky Frauds.

Secretary Bristow to-day had an interview with Judge Pierrepont in the intended prosecution of persons engaged in the whisky frauds. The papers and documents relating to this business were to-day officially referred to Commissioner Pratt by Solicitor Wilson.

Secretary Bristow to-day called on the Attorney General, and afterwards on the President, both visits having significance with reference to the past and future operations against illicit distillers. Subsequently the Secretary was closely closeted with Commissioner Pratt, and received damaging statements against the ring submitted to them by Revenue Agent Yaryan within the past few days. Bristow has received communications from Eastern cities indicating to him that he has hardly yet broken the crust of the formidable ring which he is trying to put down. Offers have been made to him, contingent on his co-operation with those making the offer, to supply evidence which will involve a number of heretofore regarded respectable houses in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and elsewhere. The Secretary has relieved the Secret Service from any further active participation in the crusade, and has entrusted to Mr. Pratt, the new Revenue Commissioner, the duty of arranging for further seizures. It is expected that prominent internal revenue changes will soon be made in the West.

The Syndicate Subscription.

The call for the redemption of five million coupon bonds, issued from the Treasury on Saturday, indicates an additional subscription of that amount by the syndicate, making in all $35,000,000 called in on that account.

Indian Visitors.

All the Indian delegations have arrived, the last squad reaching here to-day. They will be received by the Indian Commissioner to-morrow.

CHICAGO.

Tax Suit Against the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Railroad—Walking Against Time—Proceedings of the Reformed Episcopal Council—The Distillery Cases.

CHICAGO, May 17.—In the suit of George Nebeker vs. the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Railroad Company, to restrain the collection of a tax upon the capital stock and the personal property of the company, for which an injunction was recently granted, an application was made this morning in the United States Circuit Court to extend the injunction to the realty also. County Attorney Roundtree contended that the company would have abundant opportunity to protect itself when an application for a judgment of the sale of lands should be made on the second Monday in June. Judge Drummond, however, thought that in the county court, where that application would be made, the opinion of the Supreme Court would prevail, and that is hostile to this view. The Court further stated that where a State Board of Equalization had raised the value of the lands without notice to the owners or testimony, it was an illegal act, which should be restrained, but he would make only a temporary order as to the realty until he could see if some of it should not stand.

Judges Q. Blodgett and Drummond to-day sat together in the United States Circuit Court to hear the motion of the counsel for the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Railroad Company to discharge the receivers, Hammond and Brown, appointed by the Will County Circuit Court. There was a long argument by the counsel for both interests, at the conclusion of which the Court took the motion under advisement, intimating at the same time that the two parties to the suit would do better to agree to appoint a disinterested partyas receiver.

O'Leary, the pedestrian, commenced his trial of walking five hundred miles in one hundred and fifty-six hours at 4:30 last evening. He accomplished the first fifty miles in eight hours and fifty-six seconds, his eleventh mile being made in eight minutes and ten seconds. Up to 9:15 this morning he had completed seventy-six miles in fourteen hours and ten seconds. He expects to accomplish the feat by midnight on Saturday.

The pedestrian O'Leary had, at 10:30 this evening, accomplished one hundred and twenty-five miles in about twenty-nine hours. This is one quarter of the alloted distance, and less than one fifth of his time.

At to-day's session, the Reformed Episcopal Council accepted the articles of religion as reported, with minor amendments. The special committee on "Additional Agencies" reported in favor of electing two additional Missionary Bishops, to be assigned, till ordered otherwise, to the Pacific jurisdiction and to the South; also, favoring the retention of the two present Bishops in their present relations. The report was amended to proceed to the election of the two Bishops without an assignment. A vote being taken, Dean Edward Bridge, of Victoria, British Columbia, received twenty-seven out of thirty-two clerical votes, and thirty-three out of thirty-five lay votes. On a ballot for second Bishop, the second time, Rev. James A. Latone, of Wheeling, West Va., received nineteen out of twenty-nine clerical votes, and thirty-two out of thirty-five lay votes.

A committee of the Preachers' Meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Clergy of Chicago visited the Council this afternoon. Rev. Dr. Edwards expressed their sympathy, and tendered the Council a hearty God-speed.

The internal revenue officials here deny that any further steps have been taken in the distillery cases. It is stated, nevertheless, to-night, that criminal warrants have been issued against Geo. L. Crosby, a distiller of this city, and Hines & Turner, of Sagetown, Ills., and that similar warrants will be issued against other distillers here to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS.

Resignation of the Collector of Internal Revenue—Attempted Murder and Suicide—A Would-be Incendiary Killed—Mayoralty Contest.

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—Col. Constantine Maguire, Collector of Internal Revenue in this city, wrote to the department at Washington on May 3d that in consequence of a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, his physicians advised him to go to the Hot Springs, Ark., to spend several months, and as he did not think the department would grant so long a leave of absence, he tendered his resignation, to take effect on June 30, the end of the fiscal year. Secretary Bristow replies that his resignation will be accepted as soon as Maguire's successor is appointed and qualified.

Mrs. Pisback, proprietress of a saloon and boarding house, was shot in the neck at a late hour last night by her husband, who then placed the pistol to his mouth and fired twice, killing himself instantly.

Hill Leffingwell, an old and prominent citizen of Kirkwood, twelve miles from this city, while walking in his grounds yesterday, discovered an old negro named Ben applying a torch to his house. When remonstrated with he seized an ax and assaulted Mr. Leffingwell, who retreated to the house and obtained a shot gun. Ben followed, insisting he would kill Leffingwell, and advanced within three feet of him with the upraised weapon, when the latter was obliged to fire in self defense, which he did, hitting the negro in the shoulder and side, inflicting a wound from which he died several hours afterward. Although nearly ninety years old, Ben was a powerful man, and for some time past has shown signs of insanity. The jury today returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Henry Overstolz to-day served a notice of contest on Jos. H. Britton, who was elected Mayor of the city on Saturday.

NEW ORLEANS.

The Wheeler Compromise.

NEW ORLEANS, May 17.—The Republican, in a column editorial to-morrow, animadverts upon Judge Wheeler's review of the Louisiana compromise published in the New York Times. It says: While he was in New York, Mr. Wheeler took the names of all the members of the Hahn House who were then seated, and the parishes from which they came from. Mr. Packard maintained that they must remain and be counted. Among the Republicans who were thus to remain were Messrs. Rockon, Martinel, Richard and Floyd. Mr. Wheeler arrived here on Monday night, April 12, and on the next day met Governor Kellogg, Marshal Packard, Mr. Leonard and others, in Gen. Sheridan's room, with the General present. He there reaffirmed his New York opinion, that four Republican members could not be be legally unseated,—not without a violation of the conditions of the compromise.

SPORTING NEWS.

Meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club—The Fastest Time Ever Made by a 3 Year Old—Aristodes Makes One Mile and a Half in 2:37 3-4.

LOUISVILLE, May 17.—The inaugural meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club opened to-day under more favorable auspices than was hoped for by the most sanguine of the managers. The attendance was upwards of 3,000, the grand stand being thronged by a brilliant assembly of ladies and gentlemen. The quarter stretch and other stands were crowded, and the center of the field was filled with hundreds of carriages. The order was perfect and every arrangement carried out to the letter. The great event of the day, the Derby, won by Aristodes, marks the fastest time ever made by a three year old, and is only second to the time made by Tom Bowling as a four year old. Fifteen horses started at the first tap of the drum and got away in beautiful style. It was a mile heat. The race was won by Fair Play. It was also made in almost unprecedented time. Altogether the meeting was extraordinarily successful. The following are the summaries of the four races:

First race, one mile and a quarter; purse three hundred dollars; Bonaventure, 1; Capt. Hutchison, 2; Vanderbilt, 3. Time 2:13¼. In this race Hibburn, Orphan Girl and Bessie Lee were not placed. Bonaventure was the favorite, one hundred to eighty dollars over the field.

Second race, Kentucky Derby, one mile and a half dash for three year olds, with forty-two entries, fifteen starting; Aristodes, 1; Volcano, 2; Verdigris, 3. Time 2:37¾. McGrath's entries, Aristodes and Chesapeake had a call of two to one over any named entry.

Third race, mile heats for all ages. Fair Play, 3, 1, 1; Vickburg, 1, 3, 2; Harry Felker, 2, 2, 0; War Jig, 4, 4, 0; Mary L., 5, 5, 0. Time 1:44½ and 1:44¾.

Fourth race, dash of one mile for all ages. Ron. Pennington, 1; Egypt, 2; Georgie Bowman, 3. Twelve were not placed. Time 1:43¼.

The programme for to-morrow embraces three races, half mile dash for two year olds, two mile heats, and one and one-eight mile dash.

WHEELING.

The Nail Feeders Anxious to Resume Work—The Capital Removal Injunction.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 17.—The nail feeders of this city have agreed to resume work at the old figures provided they are given their old jobs.

A telegram to Mayor Sweeney, of this city, from Governor Jacobs, at Charleston says Bennett, Byrne, Burdett and Cole have answered the injunction and submitted to the jurisdiction ot the Court, thus complicating the case, and probably delaying the removal of the capital, even if the injunction be dissolved.

THE MINERS' WAR.

Workmen for the Franklin Mines—Strikers Arrested at Osceola.

TYRONE, PA., May 17.—This morning nine Germans, under charge of Sheriff McPherson, were taken to the Franklin mines from here.

Fifty-six strikers were arrested by the sheriff to-day at Osceola, and taken to the Clearfield jail on a charge of making threats against workingmen. No resistance was made. The sheriff is determined to protect the men at work.

"Crooked" Whisky in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, May 17.—General Patterson, Collector of Internal Revenue of this District, to-day, seized about one hundred barrels of alcohol, shipped from G. Brunsbrey & Co., St. Louis, to parties here, which is believed to be "crooked."

KEYSER'S DREAM.

How Keyser Anticipated Death.

Last December my friend Keyser dreamed one night that he would die on the 13th of January. So strongly was he assured of the fact that the vision would prove true that he began at once to make preparations for his departure. He got measured for a burial suit, he drew up his will, he picked out a nice lot in the cemetery and had it fenced in; he joined the church, and selected six of the Deacons as his pall-bearers; he also requested the choir to sing at the funeral, and he got them to run over a favorite hymn of his to see how it would sound. Then he got Toombs, the undertaker, to knock together a burial casket, with silver-plated handles, and cushions inside, and he instructed the undertaker to rush out his best hearse, and to buy sixty pairs of black gloves to be distributed among the mourners. He had some trouble deciding upon a tombstone. The man at the marble-yard wanted to shove off on him a second-hand one, with an angel weeping over a kind of a flower-pot; but Keyser finally ordered a new one, with a design representing a rosebud with a broken stem, and the legend, "Not lost, but gone before."

Then he got the village newspaper to put a good obituary notice of him in type, and he told his wife that he would be gratified if she would come out in the spring and plant violets upon his grave. He said it was hard to leave her and the children, but she must try to bear up under it. These afflictions are for our good, and when he was an angel he would come and watch over her, and keep his eye on her. He said she might marry again if she wanted to, for, although the mere thought of it nearly broke his heart, he wished her above all to be happy, and to have some one to love her and protect her from the storms of the rude world. Then he, and Mrs. Keyser, and the children cried, and Keyser, as a closing word of consel, advised her not to plow for corn earlier than the middle of March.

On the night of the 12th of January there was a flood in the creek, and Keyser got up at 4 o'clock in the morning of the 13th, and worked until night trying to save his buildings and his woodpile. He was so busy that he forgot all about its being the day of his death, and, as he was very tired, he went to bed early and slept soundly all night.

About 6 o'clock on the morning of the 14th there was a ring at the door-bell. Keyser jumped out of bed, threw up the front window and exclaimed:

"Who's there?"

"It's me—Toombs," said the undertaker.

"What do you want at this time of the morning?" demanded Keyser.

"Want," said Toombs, not recognizing Keyser, "Why, I've brought around the ice to pack Keyser in, so he'll keep until the funeral. The corpse'd spoil this kinder weather if we didn't"

Then Keyser remembered, and it made him feel mad when he thought how the day had passed and left him still alive, and how he had made a fool of himself. So the corpse said:

"Well you can just skeet around home again with that ice; the corpse is not yet dead. You're a leetle too anxious, it strikes me. You're not goin' to chuck me into a sepulchre yet, if you have got everything ready. So you can haul off and unload."

About half-past 10 that morning the Deacons came around, with crape on their hats and gloom on their faces, to carry the body to the grave, and while they were on the front steps the marble-yard man drove up with the rosebud tombstone and shovel, and stepped in to ask the widow how deep she wanted the grave dug. Just then the choir arrives with the minister, and the company was assembled in the parlor, when Keyser came in from the stable, where he had been dosing a horse with patent medicine and mash for the glanders. He was surprised, but he proceeded to explain that there had been a little mistake somehow. He was also pained to find that everybody seemed to be a good deal disappointed, particulary the tombstone man, who went away mad, declaring that such an old fraud ought to be rammed into the ground anyhow, dead or alive. Just as the Deacons left in a huff, the tailor's boy arrived with the burial suit, and before Keyser could kick him off the steps the paper carrier flung into the door the Morning Argus, in which that obituary occupied a prominent place.

Anybody who wants a good reliable tombstone that has a broken rosebud on it, and that has never been used, can buy one of that kind at a sacrifice for cash, from Keyser. He thinks that bad dream must have been caused by eating too much sausage at supper.—Max Adler.

BY MAIL.

From China and Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 17.—The following is a summary of Chinese news to April 17th:

SHANGHAI, April 17.—The Chinese frigate Young Wa starts on a cruise around the world in September next. She will first visit Japan.

Li Hung Chang, Viceroy of the Chinese provinces, and the most powerful subject in the empire, has petitioned the throne that western studies be introduced in the schools, and that candidates for public office be hereafter examined in foreign sciences. The Viceroy seriously urges this proposal. The Peking Government will not venture to resist it.

S. Wells Williams, of the United States legation, is about to start for America.

In Formosa fighting continues between the Southern aborigines and the Chinese troops, to the disadvantage of the latter. Reinforcements have been sent from Foo Chow. Segonzac, French assistant director of the arsenal, has gone to assist in the operations against the savage tribes.

The period of official mourning for the late Emperor terminates on April 20. A new decree of mourning is expected in memory of the young Empress, who died March 24. The circumstances of her death have aroused general suspicion. There is little concealment of the belief that fear of complications in case her expected child should be a son, led to her life being sacrificed.

By a collision April 4th, off the coast of China, between the Chinese steamship Feising and the British steamship Ocean, the former foundered instantly. Fifty lives were lost. The Ocean was seriously injured, but succeeded in reaching Feising.

Mr. Uhlargary was forcibly presented to Tsing li Yamen by Mr. Wade, British Minister, in company with Vice Admiral Ryder, representing the navy. The Chinese officials are understood to have at first tried to evade the responsibility on the plea of Momein, the scene of murder being close upon Burmese territory. China's effort to deny jurisdiction is similar to that made in the recent Formosan affair with Japan. If persisted in the British authorities will act as the Japanese did and undertake the punishment themselves. Prince Kung appeared at the outset determined to resist Mr. Wade's threat, but the latest advices represent him as willing to investigate and give satisfaction. Pecuniary indemnity will be asked for and permission for British supervision of the official examination at Momein will be demanded.

YOKOHAMA, April 26.—Government savings banks have been established throughout Japan, under the control of the Postoffice Department. The minimum deposit is ten cents, and interest three per cent. per year. Eighteen banks are already opened in Yeddo.

Telegraphic communication is to be extended to the Low Chew islands.

The British corvette Challenger, engaged in a scientific investigation in eastern waters, arrived at Yokohama on April 11. She will remain till the middle of June, when she will start on a survey of the Pacific to Vancouver's Island.

The United States ship Ashuelot was detained at Nagasaki by an explosion of her cylinder. Several weeks are required for repairs.

The American merchants, Augustine, Head & Co., suspended payment in Japan and China on April 17. The liabilities are not stated.

Corean affairs continue to attract attention, but the Japanese are reticent, apprehending interference by foreign representatives. The negotiations thus far are conducted in a friendly spirit by the Japanese commissioners in Corea.

The commissioner recently returned from Siam reports that the establishment of regular diplomatic and commercial relations between that country and Japan does not at present seem requisite. Government changes are gradually progressing.

The first result of the Asaka conferences of February last was the return of Kido and Itayaki to the Imperial Council. Through their influence the subject of the deliberative assemblies was reconsidered, and on April 14 an imperial proclamation was issued creating a body called Geners, which will be composed of Senators appointed by the Mikado; also a second body, Daishin, the functions of which are to adjust and administer the judicial system. The question of an elective house was reserved for future considerative. The proclamation is regarded as the greatest concession that can be made, with proper regard to public safety, to the parties asking Parliamentary reforms, led by Stogaki, Kido, Soyezima and others less prominent. On the same date two or three minor departments were abolished.

On April 17 Soyezima and Goto, former members of the Imperial Council, but out of office since the spring of 1873, were called to the Mikado to be heard on the question of a new Senate. They were the leaders of the movement for popular representation in the winter of 1873. The reconciliation is complete, but it is not yet known if Soyezima will accept office. His personal ambition is great and his demands high, but his services are needed, especially in connection with foreign affairs.

There are new complications in Tew Chew affairs, in consequence of a party of Tew Chewans having started unofficially and without authority to congratulate the new emperor of China on his accession. They were escorted to Peking and lodged in one of the Government buildings. The chief of the party announced that the visit was made for the purpose of renewing the declaration of anciant vassalage. Instead of referring to his Government for instruction in the matter, the Japanese Charge committed the mistake of seeking a personal explanation from the Tew Chewans and insisting on an interview with them. To this the Chinese authorities objected. The whole affair is now under consideration by the Government of Yeddo, which does not conceal its regret that the business has been carelessly handled by the Charge. The need is more strongly felt than ever of a warning to China not to continue surreptitious relations with this Japanese dependency.

OBITUARY.

Gen. John C. Breckinridge.

LEXINGTON, KY., May 17.—General John C. Breckinridge died in this city this evening, of abscess of the liver, combined with consumption. His last hours were quiet and peaceful. On Sunday night he spent a restless time, and sent during the night for his regular physician, who administered an opiate to the sufferer, after which he slept until late this morning. Then he was visited by Dr. Louis A. Sayre, of New York, who dressed the wound made by the operation on Monday of last week. The Doctor, seeing that a discharge was taking place from the wound, expressed himself hopeful of the patient's final recovery, with proper attention. After this he took some nourishment. At three o'clock in the evening a change for the worse was perceptible, and his friends became alarmed. Stimulants were administered, but without effect. He sank rapidly until near five o'clock, when he became speechless. He died at fifteen minutes of six. He was conscious, apparently, up to within a few moments of his death. There was no scene, no last words, nothing ostentatious in the manner in which the sufferer met his fate. He died as he lived, modest and brave. The only allusions he made to death were after the operation was performed on him last week by Drs. Sayre and Gross, when he said that he felt so comfortable he believed mortification had set in, and again in his will, made the next day, in which he used these words: "After all my just debts, which are few and small, and the expense of a modest funeral paid, I desire," &c. Around the death bed of the General were his wife, two daughters and one son, and a few other immediate relatives. In accordance with the wish of the deceased and the desire of the family, the funeral will be a modest one. It will take place on Wednesday evening at four o'clock. The death of Gen. Breckinridge has cast a gloom over this community, where he was much loved for his many estimable qualities.

New Hampshire Politics.

BOSTON, May 17.—Gov. Weston, of New Hampshire, and four out of five of his Council, decide that the votes cast for "Natt" Head, Republican candidate for State Senator from the Second District, are to be treated as blanks, claiming that his name is Nathaniel. They also threw out the vote cast for the Prohibition candidate for State Senator, declaring him ineligible on account of not having been a resident of the State as long as the law prescribes. This gives the two disputed seats in the Senate to Democrats.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Mr. T. Grattan Riggs commenced his engagement last night as Suil Gair in the play of the same name. It has been two or three years since this gentleman played in Pittsburgh, but he has many friends among the lovers of the Irish drama and his various characterizations are well known and appreciated. He was supported last night by Mr. Price as Pierce Curran, Mr. Crompton as Michael Curran, Mr. Egbert as Martin Doyle and Miss Troy as Ellen Curran, the minor roles being sustained by the other members of the company. Mr. Riggs will also appear during the week in his popular character of The Irish Detective. To-night Suil Gair will be repeated.

Library Hall.

Tony Pastor's troupe was greeted by a large house last night, as was expected, for the combination is a favorite one in this city and always meets with a hearty reception every year. All the members rank high in their profession and their performances last evening gave intense satisfaction, judging from the laughter which the audience indulged in. Among the familiar names are Gus. Williams, Ella Wesner, Jennie Morgan, Sanford and Wilson, Harry Kernell, the Garnella brothers and others. Harry Kernell was brought out time and again, the audience apparently never getting tired of his witticisms. The Garnella brothers are wonderful gymnasts, particularly the youngest. Performances will be given this evening, to-morrow night and at a matinee to-morrow afternoon.

Prof. Fowler's Lectures.

Prof. Fowler lectured last evening at Lafayette Hall, to gentlemen—the attendance being very large. He discussed some physiological subjects in a plain, common sense way, and yet in a manner that was chaste and pure throughout. He will deliver but two more lectures during the week; one on Wednesday afternoon to, ladies only, and the last on Wednesday evening, for the exclusive benefit of gentlemen. He will only remain in the city this week, and those who desire to take advantage of the opportunity to learn all about their peculiarities, should call early at his rooms in the Monongahela House.

Trimble's Varieties.

Good bills are presented every night at this theatre, and the programme comprises many excellent variety performers. The seeker after amusement can visit no better place to obtain it than Trimbles.

Great Western Band.

On Thursday evening next the Great Western Band, the finest musical organization of its kind in this State, will give a concert at Library Hall. The programme is published in another column.

Musical and Dramatic Notes.

THE price paid for the play of "Davy Crocket" by Frank Mayo, the actor, was $1,000. Mayo has earned $24,000 upon it since last September.

THE Cincinnati Times remarks that the moral of opera bouffe is at its close, but if there is a moral at all it would seem rather at the lack of clothes.

AN ameteur performance of a piece called "Joseph and his Brethren" in London recently, Potiphar wore a black frock coat, white vest, black trousers and hat, carried a walking cane and smoked cigars.

IN Paris the police have suppressed speculation in tickets for the theatres; all persons offering tickets for sale on the streets are invited by a polite officer to accompany him to the nearest station.

MRS. DUNN, who wrote "Ahmed," and invented the wire scenes for it which produced the dissolving effects, is a native of Brooklyn, L. I., and her sister married the business partner of Senator Newton Booth.

JOHN S. CLARK was a Baltimore lawyer's clerk; he is, perhaps, one of the four richest actors in the profession, resides on Logan square, Philadelphia, and his wife, a sister of Edwin Booth, is also a Baltimore girl.

A BALTIMORE actress who wished to change the color of her hair tried the dye on a confiding younger brother. When he goes out, the boys cry fire, and an excited policeman turns in an alarm from the nearest box.

MISS ALICE CLARK, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, is now in New York under training for the operatic stage. The Des Moines Register says she is about to make her debut, and that her singing has drawn out the highest encomiums.

IN a Baltimore theater bill for 1807 appear the names of Mr. Warren, the father of Boston's favorite comedian, William Warren; Mr. Cone, who left the stage and became a preacher of the Gospel, and Mr. Jefferson, the grandfather of Joseph Jefferson, of Rip Van Winkle fame.

MADAME Christine Nilsson, having been requested to sing at a concert in Brussels for the benefit of the Children's Protection Society, and being unable to do so, sent a subscription of five hundred francs. The Committee of Lady Patronesses of the Institution sent her in return a fine boquet, and made her a life member of their association.

THE late Ada Isaacs Menken died in Paris, France, August 10, 1868, at the age of twenty-nine years. Her remains were temporarily interred in the cemetery of Pere La Chaise, but on April 21, 1869, they were exhumed and re-interred in the cemetery of Mont Parnasse, where, by the agreement then perfected, they were to repose for all time. A monument now marks the spot.

A PROVOKING piece of impudence was recently perpetrated upon Miss Soldene, the opera bouffe singer, in New Orleans. A superb boquet was thrown upon the stage, and the fair artist, after smiling sweetly upon the young man who threw it, stooped to pick it up. Just before her fingers touched it, it was suddenly withdrawn, a string having been attached to it for that purpose. The gifted youth has been heavily fined for the outrage.

MLLE. LOLA, the trapeze performer, offers to bet from $500 to $5,000 that she can perform any feat on the trapeze ever accomplished by any other performer, and that she can surpass any other woman on the trapeze. Several years ago Mlle. Lola entered into a contest with a rival male trapeze performer at New Brunswick, Dominion of Canada, and, although she fractured her jaw, succeeded in accomplishing a daring feat and winning the wager.

Monsters About Us.

The Rev. Dr. Bartol, of Boston, gave expression to these emphatic views on Sunday last, when referring to the case of Jesse Pomeroy: "If we would have no monsters about us in the community, let not idiots or insane pair, or scrofulous or consumptives, those soaked in alcohol or conceived in lust, entering the world diseased in body or mind, or overweighted with any propensity or passion, be allowed to marry, any more than we would have a nursery for wolves and bears, or cultivate poisonous ivy, deadly night-shade, or apple-fern in the enclosures of our houses, our yards and fields. Society, by righteous custom, if not by statute law, has a right to prevent, to forbid the multiplication of monstrous specimens of humanity. That mewing, puking, drooling, wailing baby ought not to exist; it is no blessing, but a curse of nature and God on the misdoing of men and women."

DEATH IN THE LOCKUP.

An Overdose of Whisky—Sad Termination of a Career of Dissipation.

An impressive temperance lesson was furnished at the Allegheny lockup last night. About nine o'clock word was brought to the station house that a man was lying on the platform in the Fort Wayne Railroad yard, in a beastly state of intoxication. A couple of officers went down and found the man insensible, and unable to move. They procured a wheelbarrow, and with the aid of several citizens, conveyed the man to the lockup, where he was laid in a cell. When he was searched a whisky bottle was found in his possession containing a small quantity of the poison, which the man evidently could not dispose of. The prisoner was left in the cell, in the deep sleep of drunkenness, for a couple of hours, when the turnkey, officer Askey, had occasion to go back to take a look in the cells. He heard the man breathing, and thought the respirations were rather singular. Detective Miller, who was in the lock-up was called and the two men went into the cell and attempted to turn the man over on his side. As they did so, however, he ceased to breathe. The tombs physician was at once summoned, but the patient was beyond the reach of medical skill. The physician said his death had resulted from congestion of the brain and convulsions, brought on by dissipation and excessive drinking.

Further investigation developed the fact that the victim was Charles Ostenheimer, who had often been in the lock-up and had also been under treatment in the hospital for intemperance. He was unmarried and resided on the corner of Isabella Court and Kilbuck street—making his home with a sister, when he was in a condition to appreciate a home.

The body was taken in charge by Mr. Fairman, the undertaker, and an inquest will be held to-day.

BONDS at Frankfort 99.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 26f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 116.

A SWEEPING removal of revenue officials is determined upon, as the only method of making certain that the influence of the Whisky Ring is broken up within the Department of Internal Revenue.

THE three worthies who were arrested on suspicion of being professional thieves, were released yesterday, and rearrested. They evidently regard themselves as in a bad fix, and would doubtless be willing to agree to leave Pittsburgh, if permitted.

THE new call of Secretary Bristow for $5,000,000 of bonds, brings out the fact that the Rothschild syndicate have subscribed for $10,000,000 in addition to their former subscription. The rapid subscriptions made, indicate the early absorption of the entire loan.

THE Indians now in Washington are to be thoroughly interviewed, that their account of mistreatment may be obtained. If they bring charges of wrong against officials in their region, it is the purpose of Secretary Delano to thoroughly examine their truth, that the guilty parties may be punished.

THE Allegheny Republicans have determined to hold their primaries next Saturday, the delegates to the Convention being on the basis fixed by law. The Convention will probably be held Monday, and the delegates to the State Convention selected. The proceedings agreed upon are finally proceeding in an entirely harmonious manner.

WE admire sensitiveness,—it is proof of a noble and lofty spirit. But over-sensitiveness is another matter, and not so commendable. A citizen of Philadelphia offered to place a bell and clock in Independence Hall tower in time to strike the hour of noon, on the 4th of July, 1876. In suggesting an inscription, he mentioned the names of his father and mother. The papers of Philadelphia thereupon set up a tremendous howl at the proposed sacrilege. The gentleman then wrote Councils, suggesting the omission of the inscription,—and still offering $20,000 for the clock and bell. The howl thereupon subsided. Shame!

THERE are outgivings of suspicion that the young widow of the Emperor of China did not die a natural death, but was put out of the way, for fear of possible complications if her expected child should prove to be a son. Feeble as is the influence of women generally in China, the Empire is actually governed by two women, who formed a combination for the purpose. One is the late Emperor's mother, and the other a woman who was also wife of the Emperor's father. They were regents along with Prince Kung, and are actually in power again. They have in hand a young child who is declared to be the heir to the throne.

THE evidence offered in the Life Insurance case, now on trial before the United States Circuit, this city, suggests an important inquiry. Why should Life Insurance companies receive a premium from an insurer, and grant a policy, when, it would seem, they intend to contest the payment, in the event of death? The evidence discloses that the person whose policy is in litigation inquired carefully and suspiciously concerning the suicide clause, a fact that serves to indicate a purpose to suddenly die. Yet the premium was taken, and the policy granted. We are growing more and more of the opinion that the receipt of the premium should, if a tolerably clear and honest case is made by an insurer, be made to compel the payment of the policy in the event of death.

THE death of the old-time Pittsburgher, General William Larimer, took place at Leavenworth, Kansas, on Saturday evening last. The gentleman referred to was, in his day, a man of rare energy and enterprise, but of remarkably kindly, genial spirit. Many amusing stories are told of his methods of business, and his kindly generosity. When he fell into bankruptcy he acted in the most perfectly honorable manner, giving up his entire property to his creditors. He then went to Leavenworth, where, during the war, he raised a regiment, of which he was Colonel. He also represented his constituency in the Legislature of Kansas. After a career of remarkable enterprise and vigor, he has passed away, honored at home, and his memory tenderly held in this, his former home.

BRAZIL is evidently overtaken by difficulties similar to those which caused the panic in this country. The development of the country, the building of railroads, the construction of public works, and similar enterprises, have absorbed the available capital of the country, and hampered it in its efforts to borrow. As a result, it has brought a crisis on. The Government, however, has met the emergency by authorizing an extra issue of paper, and the crisis is thought to be relieved. This relief, of course, is merely temporary, and must, in the nature of things, be followed by further depression. When a country once falls into depression, as the result of an unusual effort at development, it is always necessary to wait until enough time has elapsed to admit of recuperation. We are experiencing this in this country, and Brazil must pass through a like experience.

THE discovery of the extensive silk smuggling frauds, in New York, suggest the inquiry whether, after all, the Government did not act wisely in keeping up a secret service corps in connection with the New York Custom House? Also, whether the howl raised against Jayne and the moiety system was not in the interest of the smuggling element? The New York Tribune was not free from that suspicion at the time of the moiety fight. It is very certain, that no sooner was that system put aside than wholesale smuggling began to be perpetrated. The loss to the Government is estimated at a million of dollars. Two of the principals in this country are in jail, but the conspiracy embraced prominent parties in England and on the continent, who, of course, will escape. This development ought to put an end to all opposition to the Government using the most rigid measures for discovering and repressing smuggling.

THE raw and cheerless character of the weather continues to be a topic of remark. Spring is within two weeks of yielding to Summer, yet we have had but little weather that reminded us of the time of year. May flowers have but rarely obtruded themselves, while cold and frosts have served to wither all that was perishable of bud or flower. The cold and frosts have seriously retarded growing crops, and all is unpromising. If the weather thus continues, Summer will be upon us, with weather suitable only to late Winter. Can we have drifted out of our sphere, and reached some place in the solar system where the usual influences of the seasons are negatived, and only dreariness and cold are left? Yet with all the chill and cold, we have a vast amount of disease, and many deaths. Fevers, colds, incipient consumption, and even hasty forms of pulmonary complaint, are upon us, and the number of deaths, here and elsewhere, is in excess of what might be expected. We record our solemn protest against such a Spring. It is neither gentle nor agreeable.

MISSOURI has a Constitutional Convention in session, before whom a Bill of Rights has been presented by the proper committee. This evades the distinct and positive recognition of the unity of the nation, and the binding force of the Constitution of the United States, that is contained in the present State Constitution. It says, "The people of this State are a part of the American nation; that all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union or to sever said nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State," and that "no law or ordinance of this State, in contravention or subversion of the Constitution and Government of the United States, can have any binding force." In place of this, the new Bill of Rights says, "We declare that all political power is vested in the people of the State, with those limitations only which are imposed on them by the Constitution of the United States." This is a generalization which is intended to wipe out the doctrine of national unity, unsettled by the war, and substitute the old Democratic theory of State Rights.

THE war on the "crooked" whisky dealers continues with unabated energy. Every day brings to light new cases,—and shows that the country is thoroughly saturated with the rascality of those men. It is somewhat surprising to us that the temperance people do not use this fact, as the most potential argument possible, in behalf of the utter overthrow of the traffic. Here is a business, which professedly seeks to exist by the sufferance of the Government. In S ates and the nation it is a licensed and limited business. Yet the moment it starts, restricted as it is, the Government finds itself under the necessity of employing a comprehensive and elaborate system of checks, and detectives to guard itself against being cheated. Notwithstanding all this, it is cheated out of millions annually. Its officers are corrupted, bribed, and scandalized; the Government is laughed at and swindled; the highest departments of the Government are filled with paid spies, and measures taken to corrupt, as well as defraud, high officials. The vast means at command made this successful, and a very rioting in iniquity was prevalent. There are men in all departments of business who seek to deal dishonestly with the Government; but here the business seems to run to dishonesty. There are, doubtless, honest dealers in liquors; but the entire distilling business seems saturated with rascality. The problem is, should we allow at all what, when allowed, runs at once into rascality? If a given business cannot be permitted without the permission being grossly abused, is this not a reason why it should be abolished altogether? We do not argue the point, but state it for two purposes—to show the liquor people the attitude they are placed in by, and the temperance men the logic of the rascalities recently exposed.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS AND PRINCIPLES.

We are now sufficiently advanced into Spring for us to look in the face the question, "what is the business outlook? Has industry recuperated, and are the effects of the panic gone?" Our streets are more active, and the stir and roar equal what we have in ordinary busy times. Is this a profitable activity, and does it promise well? We have carried these inquiries to tradesmen and manufacturers, and the answers received are not of the most consoling character. Yet, after carefully analyzing what we heard, we conclude that there is more good cheer than at first sight might appear. Our manufacturers, for example, pronounce business gloomy and depressed. Yet they confess to considerable sales, but at prices and on terms that are not satisfactory. Orders are liberal rather than otherwise, but prices are close. Nothing tangible can be had, in response to the inquiry whether the market seems permanent; but orders come and are filled, and others follow. All this, to us, indicates that we have one phase of a revival of trade in existence,—a demand for manufactured products. This did not exist a short time since. Now it is here, and the demand is evidently larger than it was five years ago, for our furnaces and mills will turn out more iron and manufactured material than they did five years ago. That is, we have no larger number of furnaces in operation than then, but they have a greater capacity. Therefore, if we have orders, that nearly absorb the production, we are at least well supplied with orders; and this is an element of returning prosperity.

In other branches of trade we have the same general result. In the dry goods trade there is positive complaint of dullness; but in all others, we gather that while there is less business done, it is on an entirely different basis. For example, orders from the surrounding country are not so large at any one time,—but they are more frequent, and are more generally paid for at once. Thus, the figures are closer, and the orders smaller, yet there are fewer losses, and the possession of the money for the goods sold as offsetting advantages. There is little doubt that the development of our railway system has much to do with the result experienced. Where, in former years, the merchants from surrounding towns came to the city rarely, now they come frequently, and in place of buying largely, on credit, to supply trade for several months, they now buy less largely, for cash, and replenish their stocks every few days or weeks. Thus the character of the trade is changed. In place of being concentrated into seasons, it is more evenly spread over the entire year. At no one period is trade large, but when the aggregate is made up, whether as to sales or profits, at the end of the year, it is found to be fully equal, and in many cases superior to that of former years. In several lines of business, we have been frankly informed of this fact. We conclude, therefore, that the trade prospects are far from being discouraging.

Profits are smaller than they have been, but this, if the proper effort is made, can be met by bringing business nearer to a cash basis. A cash dealer can afford to sell for less than a credit dealer. Trust involves loss. At best, there is a per centage of loss in the delay of from two to four months in receiving pay. And this loss is not merely the per centage the money would bring,—it is the greater loss of disadvantageous purchases, and costly and labored methods of doing business. Add to this the losses from bad debts, and we have an aggregate that is a very severe drain on the business of any concern. Cash trade involves the use of money derived from sales, and the consequent economy in transacting business, with lessened profits, is really better in its nett results than the larger business done on credit.

The time for applying these principles is at the end of a panic. At such times credits are unsettled, and business men more readily yield to a demand for cash than at other times. The reasonableness of cash demands is more fully conceded at such times, and there is less trouble in drawing business down to a cash basis. This, of all things, is what Pittsburgh needs. Our manufacturers and coal dealers have actually, in the past, set their customers up in business, and carried them. They have sold them goods at four months, which have, in turn been sold, and the money collected, before the paper given our manufacturers was due. Our coal dealers have sold coal in Cincinnati, received four months paper, and been compelled to discount it at our Pittsburgh banks,—the coal sold having been retailed and the money collected within thirty days of time. These are not exceptional, but general circumstances. Trade is reviving, as to demand; but prices are discriminated very closely. This, of necessity, will be so. But let cash terms be enforced, and small as is the margin of profit, it will be found sufficient to afford a fair return for the money invested. We are on the way to prosperity again. We have the demand, and only need to carefully control the selling conditions to provide for the depression in price. This done, and our manufactories can be vigorously run until, slowly, but certainly, prices advance, when a fair degree of prosperity will be upon us once more.

ON Sunday night Alonzo Jackson, his wife and two children, Albert Smith and his wife and two children, went over a dam in a skiff, at Zanesville, Ohio, drowning Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Smith, one child of Jackson's and one child of Smith's. It it said that the men were under the influence of liquor, and could not manage the boat.

THE Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, which met in New York city last week, returned a verdict of acquittal in the case of Rev. Nevin Woodside, of Brooklyn. He was charged with improper intimacy with a young woman before the Miami session at Northwood, Ohio, but the evidence proves his entire innocence.

BEFORE departing for Europe Miss Neilson presented to Mr. Vincent, stage manager of Booth's Theatre, a gold-headed malacca cane, valued at $100, and to Frank Little, the callboy, a diamond pin, valued at $75. She also presented to Mr. Tooker a complete set of Shakespeare's works, superbly bound, and a miniature portrait of herself, exquisitely cased.

DR. JAMES BEALE has placed in the State Library of Virginia a portrait of Pocahontas, which he says is an exact copy, made by the elder Sully in 1830, of the original portrait of the Indian princess painted during her visit to England between the years 1616 and 1617. It has been in the possession of the descendants of Pocahontas up to the present time.

A PRIVATE letter from Prospect, Oneida county, N. Y., gives a clever account of a Welsh spelling match in that town. The words were given out by Mr. Owen Jones, the editor of Y Drych, and there were fifteen contestants, the last of whom was vanquished on the word Wuddyi, which was perfectly excusable, even for a Welshman. Such morsels as Lluytod and Grwdyl were not regarded even with timidity.

THE following is given as the costume of a fashionable lady in 1709, per ye last ship from ye port of Bristol, England, to His Majesty's plantations in North America: A black silk petticoat, with a red and white calico border; cherry colored stays, trimmed with blue and silver; a red and dove colored damask gown, flowered with large trees; a yellow satin apron, trimmed with white Persian; muslin headcloths, with crawfoot edging; a black silk furbelowed scarf, and spotted hood.

THEY were married last Fall, and they hadn't had one cross word or sour look, when, the other night, he moved the cook stove into the shanty, and called her to hold the pipe up while he gently knocked the joints together. She smiled sweetly as she replied, "Yes, my dear;" but five minutes hadn't passed before he yelled out: "Durn it! I thought you knew something!" And she threw two joints of pipe at him, and replied: "I want you to understand that we are as strangers from this hour!"

A SON of the Belgian sculptor, Godecharb, who died recently, has left 600,000 francs to the Belgian Government, the interest of which is to be applied to the annual endowment of Belgian sculptors.

OUR encyclopedias, in a dozen or twenty volumes, are very insignificant affairs when compared with the Imperial Chinese Encyclopedia, of which nearly 100,000 volumes have been published, and it is not yet finished.

KING LOUIS, of Bavaria, is the pet of lady newspaper correspondents, who go into ecstacies over him by the column. His mustache is blonde, his voice a light tenor, and his character so blameless as fully to account for the theory entertained in less moral Courts that he is not quite sane.

AN Englishman at Passy, in France, wished to experience the sensations of hanging, but seems to have gone a little too far, and did not recover. LAST month the building erected for the poor of London by the trustees of the Peabody Fund was opened for general use. It covers about two and a half acres, and will accommodate 312 families. The average rent of three rooms is about six shillings per week; two rooms, three shillings and sixpence, and one room, two shillings and sixpence. In alluding to this movement Sir Charles Reed, member of Parliament, said they are proving the greatest success the world has ever known in the way of beneficial charity.

EVERYBODY longs for a rest as the summer months come on, but there are different methods of removing the obstacles in the way. Two young girls in England were lately arranged on a charge of attempting to murder two children, of which they had charge. One of them admitted that she had given the baby sulphate of copper, thinking that if she could poison the child she "would not have so much to do during the summer," and that if she could get rid of the other, also, she "would have nothing to do at all." Laziness is thus added to the other motives for murder.

THE garden attached to Bismarck's official residence is overlooked by the adjoining houses, and the tenants, knowing the hours at which the Chancellor—who, like all Prussians, lives with clock-like regularity—is in the habit of walking in the garden with a view of resting his mind in the intervals of heavy work, having learned to make a good thing out of their proximity by letting out their windows to admirers of the "Iron Prince," or sightseeing strangers, who come armed with immense binoculars and take out their money's worth in a good stare at the statesman. Of course English tourists are reported to be the most frequent customers and the boldest observers, but then in Germany the English and Americans are generally confounded. At any rate the staring nuisance seems to have grown too much for the Chancellor.

THE ESCAPED CONVICTS.

A Daring Scheme Successfully Carried out—No Tidings as yet of the Fugitives—One of Them Supposed to be Wounded.

[From Sunday's New York Herald.]

The five convicts who escaped from Sing Sing Prison on Friday, after capturing a locomotive and triumphantly leaving amid a volley of musketry, have thus far eluded capture, and have, doubtless, ere this sought security from detection in New York or some other adjacent populous city. When the engine, with its desperate crew, rushed past the guards on both sides of the track, several of the prison officers, without waiting for orders, quickly saw the men in their charge properly secured, and then set out after the runaways, some taking to the railroad on foot, while others procured wagons, and, striking out for the post road, drove at a rapid pace toward Tarrytown. Guards were dropped from one of the wagons at intervals along the yard for the purpose of, if possible, keeping the escaped men in the woods between that thoroughfare and the Hudson river. The convicts, however, made good use of the distance which the locomotive had enabled them to place between themselves and their determined pursuers, as when the latter arrived on the grounds of John C. Fremont, a short distance north of Tarrytown, they ascertained that four of the escaped men had crossed the post road about half an hour previously. This information was fully confirmed when, on an immediate search being instituted for the dinner pail of the engineer, which had been taken from the locomotive by the runaways, was found in the woods, emptied of the little dainties which had been prepared for the midday meal of its owner. The four men were again seen together at about ten A. M. by men who were at work on the Croton Aqueduct, also at Sleepy Hollow a few minutes later, and subsequently at Unionville about noon, their invariable course being easterly, toward the Harlem Railroad. At the last hamlet the clerk of the prison, G. B. Gifford, who was driving behind a swift horse on the track of the fugitives, lost all traces of them and came back dejected at the thought that the "game" had succeeded in reaching the borders of Connecticut. William Gale, the keeper, who rescued a sloop from a gang of convicts, two of whom he wounded with his revolver, a short time since, was among the prison officers who followed closely on the heels of the runaways. He also learned from persons at various places east of Sing Sing that the four convicts, who were

were about half an hour ahead of him. After finally succeeding in securing a horse and wagon Gale drove with the utmost speed to Kensico, Pleasantville and other stations on the Harlem Railroad, and notified the agents, hoping by that means to capture the convicts if they attempted to get on board the Harlem cars. Accordingly every down train was carefully searched by the keeper, who, however, failed to find the escaped men. He then proceeded to White Plains and remained at the railroad depot during Friday night, in the belief that the convicts would endeavor to reach New York on the milk train, which is due at the village named about eleven o'clock P. M. This train was also minutely examined on its arrival, but the missing men were not on board. Gale went alone in the pursuit, being anxious, as he modestly hinted, to meet the notorious Steve Boyle, who was armed to the teeth, and who, he said, "would have had to be back to the prison." Indeed, every one connected with the prison knew that Boyle would never suffer himself to be captured alive, as he had made no secret of his intention to leave on the first opportunity. He has frequently told his keeper within the past year that "Whenever he got ready to leave he would go, and once away, they would never take him back alive."

As there were only four of the convicts seen in company after getting on the locomotive various theories are advanced in endeavoring to account for the fifth. Many believe that he was seriously wounded by one of the shots fired from the north post, the keeper who discharged the weapon asserting that he certainly wounded one of the convicts while he was running toward the locomotive. As though in apparent corroboration of this theory, a stone covered with blood was found on the track near the prison yesterday morning. In this connection it is further conjectured that when the party abandoned the locomotive the wounded convict crawled into and there remained until night set in, when he was probably taken away by his outside friends. It is now firmly believed that three or four of the escaped men had on suits of citizens' clothing underneath their prison garb when they broke away from the quarry. The belief is also entertained that these disguises, together with a number of revolvers, had been secreted in the quarries by confederates of the escaped convicts. To this circumstance more than any other are the fugitives indebted to-day for their liberty, as once the tell-tale prison suits were thrown aside the chances of detection were materially reduced. It is thought that Hawley was drawn into the plot to escape at the last moment, as his record in the prison was good, and he was expecting to be pardoned shortly through the intercession of his friends. His mother sent a telegram to the prison a few days since asking if her son had really escaped.

Warden Walker is about sending postal cards, bearing the descriptive list of the fugitives, to all of the principal post-offices in this and adjoining States. He regrets that he has not yet been authorized to establish a "rogue's gallery" at the prison, as in that case he would now be enabled to scatter likenesses of the escaped men broadcast over the country and by that means, in all probability, insure their speedy capture.

Petroleum Exports.

The total exports of oil from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, in crude equivalent, were 1,574,876 barrels from January 1st to May 10, 1875. The same time last year there were 1,836,008. The falling off in exports this year below last, up to May 10, is 261,132—a little over 14 per cent. From New York this year, up to May 10th, the exports to Europe of refined oil in crude equivalent amount to 841,856 barrels, and of crude oil itself 97,125 barrels. Same time last year, from New York, the exports of refined to Europe amounted in crude equivalent to 900,638 barrels, and of crude to 99,638 barrels. From Philadelphia the exports this year up to May 10th of refined amount in crude equivalent to 310,878 barrels, and of crude itself 38,795 barrels. Same time last year the exports of refined amounted in crude equivalent to 784,563 barrels, and of crude 17,006 barrels. From Baltimore this year, up to May 10th, the exports of refined amounted in crude equivalent to 286,222 barrels, and with no exports in crude. Same time last year the exports of refined were in crude equivalent 32,189 barrels, and of crude itself 1,768 barrels.

A New Orleans Grievance.

Thus does the New Orleans Picayune make moan: "We give fair notice that at the next session of the General Assembly we intend to urge legislation in the matter of milk carts. So long as we have breath to speak, or strength to write, we shall battle against the present mode of constructing milk carts. This is a free and independent Republic, we concede; but no man has a right to get behind two immense tin vessels, such as now occupy the front of the average milk cart, and then turn a bilious and unprincipled horse loose on an unsuspecting public. We have stood these milk carts long enough,—that is, we have dodged them, and fled wildly from them, long enough. It is more than we can endure to have a vehicle plunge viciously at you, and then when you have by an acrobatic paroxysm evaded it, see that the driver is supremely unconscious of your peril, and as supremely oblivious of your rage. If this public don't want to be run down by milk carts, let them awake to the issue we propose. If the people's representatives retain one spark of fidelity to their trusts let them go to work on bills for the reconstruction, remodeling, and universal amelioration of milkmen."

The Balloon Deaths.

A telegram to the London Standard from Paris says that at the Academy of Sciences M. Gaston Tissandier, the sole survivor of the late fatal balloon ascent, read a report of that expedition. He stated that the greatest altitude attained was from 8,400 to 8,600 metres (5 miles 440 yards to 5 miles 650 yards). He ascribed the death of his companions to the rarefaction of the atmosphere, and held that if they had had a better apparatus to supply them with oxygen they would have escaped unscathed. He was of opinion that life could not be supported beyond the height which the Zenith attained, and expressed an opinion that Mr. Glaisher must have been mistaken when he said he rose seven miles.

Singular Monstrosities.

Two singular monstrosities are reported in Holyoke, Mass. The first, a child born last Wednesday, has a formation upon its back like a bag, which is filled with a watery fluid. The spine at this point forms a ring, through which the contents of the sac are passed. After the birth of the child the sac continued to fill with the liquid, until it was found necessary to draw it off, and the operation is now repeated daily. In all other respects the child is perfectly natural and healthy. The second curiosity is a two-weeks-old infant which weighed, when born, just one pound and a half. Its head is described as being about the size of an orange, and its voice about the volume of a young kitten's cry. It has a thick growth of hair.

A GAMBLER'S PARADISE.

The Mysterious Interior of Y. M. C. A. Hall, Indianapolis—How the Unwary Were Robbed.

The Indianapolis Journal, of the 13th, says: The workmen employed to remodel Y. M. C. A. Hall have made many strange discoveries within the past few days. The building, once known throughout all this section of the country as the "Exchange," was built, it will be remembered, in flush war times, by Charles W. Hall, an intimate friend of Governor Hendricks. The whole interior was designed exclusively for the accommodation of the gambling profession, and every appliance and modern improvement that would be of service to short-card manipulators was put in. The ground floor was used as a livery stable, and the second floor was set apart for general gambling purposes. The rooms on this floor were free to all, and were frequented by the canaille who indulge in games of chance promiscuously, without stopping to pick their company. The large room in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. reading room could only be entered from the roof at the back part of the building, and was intended mainly as a place of concealment in the event of police raids. This apartment will hereafter be used as a chapel. In tearing out partitions, ripping up floors and knocking off sections of plastering in the suites of smaller rooms in the third story, behind the large hall, the workmen have discovered a bewildering net-work of wires, speaking-tubes, etc., connecting with each room, and rendering communication with every nook and cranny perfectly easy. These upper rooms were used for select sporting parties and placed at the disposal of dishonest gamblers, who, by means of signal wires under their feet, could keep themselves informed of the strength of each other's hands and the relative value of the cards held by the unsuspecting victim. When an outsider sat down to a quiet little game at one of these tables he was deliberately robbed of his money in this manner. The contemplation of all these cunningly contrived devices is an interesting study to those unacquainted with the secrets of gambling, and could furnish food for much wholesome reflection on the part of those who may have become enamored with the innocent delights of some of the apparently square games conducted on the recognized principles illustrated by the above described devices.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 18, 1875.

There is absolutely nothing of unusual interest, or out of the usual channel to report. The banks are accumulating funds, with but few demands for them. A banker stated to us yesterday that he found the same condition of affairs in New York on the occasion of his visit there. Our mills are busy, and a fair amount of sales made, but the fact that the banks are but slightly drawn upon would indicate that sales are made chiefly for cash. The fact that considerable sales are made, in all except the dry goods trade, proves that one element of returning property is in existence,—that of a demand for our products. Prices are down, but this evil will gradually remove as time passes, and trade is more perfectly established, and confidence renewed.

An important case in bankruptcy, in this city, was under consideration, and a large number of creditors was present. The indications were that it would be harmoniously adjusted.

The specie shipments from New York to Europe Saturday were smaller than expected, owing to the reduction in sterling, which induced some of the parties who intended to ship gold to withdraw the same. The steamship Algeria took out $831,700; the Celtic, $265,000, and the Amerique, $142,000—a total of $738,700. Of this amount $657,000 was gold coin and the remainder silver bars. The shipments for month to date, $7,000,000. Customs receipts Saturday $460,000. The Assistant Treasurer paid out $63,000 on account of interest and $302,700 in redemption of five-twenty bonds. The Treasury operations for the week included the disbursement of $748.031 gold for interest and $1,300,700 in redemption of five-twenty bonds, and the receipt of $1,878,214 for customs. The Treasury shipments of legal tenders and fractional currency for the week were $2,600,000.

NEW YORK, May 17, 1875.

Money was easy at 2½a3; prime mercantile paper 4a5½. Sterling was dull at 486a486½ for sixty days and 489a489½ for sight. The customs receipts were $390,000. Gold opened and closed at 116, with sales during the day at 116⅛. The borrowing rates were 2 per cent. and 1-64 for immediate delivery. The carrying rates were 1a2 Loans were also made flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $150,000. The clearings were $30,000,000. Governments were firm. Railroad bonds were strong, with a sharp advance in Union Pacifics first and sinking fund. State bonds were quiet.

The stock market has been active and excited to-day, and at one time during the early dealings it appeared as if the bottom had been knocked out of it. At the opening, prices were ½a¾ per cent. below the closing of Saturday, and made a further decline of ½ to 1½ per cent., except for Union Pacific, New York Central and Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph, which were firm. Later on there was a recovery of ¼ to ½ per cent. in the general list, and 1½ per cent. in Union Pacific, but prices again fell off ½ to 1 per cent., the latter occurring in the case of Union Pacific on a Washington dispatch to the effect that no decision had been rendered in the Union Pacific case by the Court of Claims, it being generally anticipated that a favorable decision to the company would be rendered to-day. The early strength in Union Pacific was due to favorable rumors about the Washington decision, and on an increase of earnings for the first two weeks in May of $168,000, compared with the same time in 1874.

The transactions aggregated 354,000 shares, of which 71,000 were Pacific Mail, 67,000 Western Union, 28,000 Northwest, 5,000 Rock Island, 5,000 St. Paul, 57,000 Erie, 74,000 Lake Shore, 12,000 Ohios, and 29,000 Union Pacific.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

PITTSBURGH TOBACCO MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 17, 1875.

The new developments in the Tobacco market demonstrate that our former predictions have not been wide of the mark. A fair demand has stiffened prices, and we can to-day record a marked improvement in quotations. First class manufactured Tobacco has appreciated from one to two cents, and there is no marked desire on the part of holders to push their stocks of leading brands into the market. The effort to sell is made on second and lower grade goods, which, owing to the rapid advance of all Tobaccos, meet the views of retailers in prices at least. We are not looking for any sharp advance from present rates. The large and leading manufacturers have leaf enough bought to run them into the Centennial, and if the prospects for the new crop brighten up and keep encouraging, there need be no fear of additional advances in the fall, as notwithstanding the utter and certain scarcity of the raw material throughout this year, an incoming fair average crop will keep prices from taking a further upward move in prospect of the new leaf proving sound, sweet and plentiful. Cigars and cigar leaf are steady, and no changes to note in the character of the market.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 17, 1875.

The general merchandise markets present no new or important features deserving of special notice; trade continues rather slow, and while it is not as brisk as it usually is at this season of the year, it is, perhaps, about all we can reasonably expect. It is true, failures and suspensions are not as frequent as they have been, yet there is still a feeling of distrust, confidence has not been fully restored, and the result is trade continues to move very slowly, the demand for all the leading staples is confined to supplying immediate necessities. One good effect of this is, it has stopped overtrading, men can no longer do business beyond their means; trading is getting on a more solid and legitimate basis, and there is no question but it is all for the better, although people generally, particularly those who have been made to feel the effects of this overtrading, cannot see any change for the better as yet. In regard to values there have been some fluctuations during the week, but none of any special importance or deserving of particular mention.

APPLES—The receipts have fallen off somewhat within the past week, but the supply continues fully up to the demand, and prices remain unchanged; $2@2.50 per bbl for common to fair, and $3@3.50 for prime to choice. Prices are lower this spring than they have been at the same time for several years, and it is not likely that they will rule much higher, as any advance would curtail the consumption.

APPLE BUTTER—There is a fair demand for good stock and the supply is light, but prices remain unchanged at 50@55c ℔ gal.

ALE—The demand continues light and prices remain unchanged; X $9 ℔ barrel to the country, and $8 to city; XX, $10; India Ale, $11. Half bbls. in regular proportion.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 3½@3¾ cents; refined do., 4@4¼; Potash, 7½@8; Pearlash, 8¾@9; Arsenic, 6; Manganese, 6¼; Nitrate Soda, 5¾; Fluor Spar, 3.

BUTTER—Trade has been fairly active during the past week, more so than was generally expected it would be, in consequence mainly of the cool weather, which not only stimulated the consumption, but kept it in a better and more saleable condition—this has more influence upon the Butter market than people are generally aware of. The general tone and spirit of the market continues weak; the receipts continue liberal, and as there is nearly always a sharp depreciation in its value at this season of the year—the first half of May—holders are all anxious to realize, to keep their stocks down to the very lowest possible limit. Prime to choice rolls quotable at 25@28c; do. new dairy, 29@30c. Old stock, of which there is still considerable on hand, continues very dull, and it will have to be closed out at great prices, 8@12c, as it is unfit for anything else—plenty of this old stock was bought on speculation last fall in the country at 28 to 35 cents.

BEESWAX—There is no movement in this article, and in the absence of sales, we continue to quote nominally at 27@30c ℔ lb.

BEANS—There has been a slight improvement in the demand during the past week, and this in connection with diminished receipts, has caused a firmer feeling, and holders generally are hopeful in regard to the immediate future of the market, although as yet there has been no perceptible improvement in the market. Quotable, that is in a round lot way, at $1.80 for prime mediums and $1.90 for prime navies. An increased consumption is looked for during the next three months, although the fact that potatoes are in good supply and much cheaper than expected, is not favorable to this expectation.

BROOM HANDLES—Choice No. 1 plain, $17@18; good, $15@16; choice No. 1 painted, $28@30; good No. 1 painted, $25@27; Toy Handles, painted, $20@22.50.

BROOM CORN—Advices from the west show the demand for brush continues good, and while it is true that some small holders throughout the west are now offering medium and poor brush at from $10@15 ℔ ton less than last month, yet this movement is only for the purpose of realizing on the stock of common brush, while the better grades are held firm, and no disposition shown to sell even at present quotations, which we give as follows: Green hurl, 12½@14; green medium, 11½@13; green stalk braid, 11½@13c; green inside and covers, 10½@12c; green brush corn, 13c to 14c. Pale and red brush range from 2@3c ℔ less than the above quotations.

BROOMS—We have no changes to note in values. The demand has improved for the better grades, and one of our manufacturers have been shipping largely to the East during the past week. We continue to quote "Union Factory" prices as follows: No. 2, $2.50 ℔ dozen; No. 3, $2.75; No. 4, $3.25; No. 5, $3.75; No. 6, $4; Patent ferule, $5; No. 5 Carpet, $4.75; No. 4, $4.50; No. 3, $4.25; Steamboat, $3.50@4.00; Mill Brooms, $3.25@3.75; Misses, $2.00@2.50; Toy, $1.25@2.00; Whisps, $1.50 to 2.50. The usual discount is allowed for round lots.

CEMENT, LIME, ETC., ETC—Louisville Cement, $2.25@2.50; Keystone, $1.75@2; Cumberland, $2.25@2.50; Rosendale $2@2.50; Portland, $7@7.50; Cleveland White Lime, $1.60@1.75; Eastern do., $1.40@1.60. Plaster—Extra Calcined, $4; common do., $3.50; Sand, $2.25@2.75; White Sand, $1.40@1.50 ℔ bbl.

CHEESE—The stock of old Ohio was exhausted in this market some time since, and there is not much old New York left; we continue to quote prime old New York Goshen at 16½@17. New Ohio Factory continues to come in freely, and the market is pretty well supplied; strictly prime quotable at 14@14½. Common, either new or old, is hard to move at any price.

CANNED GOODS—The market except for Peaches continues dull and prices are weak; holders generally appear anxious to reduce stocks; as compared with last week, however, there has been no quotable change in rates. Peaches, $3.25@3.50; Tomatoes, $1.40@1.50; Corn, $2.25@2.4 .

COKE—There has been, so far as we can learn, no quotable change in the general position of the Coke trade, for some weeks past; there is a continued fair degree of activity and prices are maintained; $2.50 ℔ ton delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh.

COAL—In consequence of the continued suspension of river navigation, trade continues very quiet; there is no quotable change in rates; 5½@6c for lump, deliverable here in boats and barges and 3½@4c for nut. Anthracite, $7.00 per ton, by the carload.

CORDAGE AND ROPE—Trade in this branch of business continues quiet, hardly as good as it usually is at this season of the year; no change in rates, which we annex as follows:

DRIED FRUIT—There is a continued fair jobbing demand for halve Peaches, and with a light stock the market is firmer but unchanged; 10@10½. Apples steady, with regular sales at 7@8c. Blackberries, 9@10 and dull. Elderberries, 6@7c.

EGGS—The market has been on the back track during the greater part of the week, the receipts having been quite liberal, and the supply in excess of the demand; the indications at present, however, are that prices will not go much lower; quotations may be fairly given at 15@16. It is but proper to remark, however, that there is no demand for export, and the immediate future of the market depends on receipts.

FURS—Muskrat, 22@30; Opossum, 10@15; red Fox, $1.00@1.25; black Skunk, $1.25@1.50; striped Skunk, 20@75; Raccoon, 40@60; Mink, $1@2.25.

FLOUR—While there has been no change in prices during the past week, the market has weakened in tone, and the outlook at the present writing warrants the prediction that there will be no further appreciation, and renders it doubtful whether the recent sharp advance can be fully sustained. Western millers, we are informed, are not as strong in their views as they were a month ago, are more disposed to realize, while dealers, on the other hand, are less disposed to buy. While there is no question but the winter wheat crop will be considerably less than an average in many localities, there is no doubt but the first reports of the damage by freezing were considerably exaggerated, and there is still altogether, enough old wheat to supply this country another year. This being the case, we do not think that the expectations of those who have been calculating upon anything like famine prices will be realized. We continue former quotations: Spring wheat flours, $6.00@6.35 for Wisconsins; and $6.25@6.50 for Minnesotas; winters, $6.25@6.50 for red, and $6.75@7.00 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6.00@6.25.

GROCERIES—Coffee—Rio fell off ¼ last week with large sales from first hands, leaving 87,739 bags in stock at the importing markets; and of other descriptions 18,355 bags and 17,218 mats were held. Java is in better supply at 4c ℔ lb lower than the highest price reached in March. Some of the cargoes were bought for this market last week at one cent ℔ lb below the present cost of importation. Sugar dull and weak, owing to the late liberal receipts and dull trade. The stocks embrace 107,815 hhds., 37,674 boxes, 63,756 bags, May 13th, against 90,944 hhds., 70,613 bxs, and 159,978 bags at same date 1874. Refined ¼ lower. Syrups and Rice firm. New Orleans Molasses in small supply at firmer figures.

GRAIN—The receipts and offerings of Wheat continue very meagre, excepting that consigned to and owned by the mills, and with considerable inquiry and little or no stock, the market is firm at the recent sharp advance; Penna, and Ohio red, $1.33@1.35; do. amber and white, $1.37@1.40. We learn that country millers all around us are paying above quoted rates, which indicates that farmers generally are disposed to hold on to what they have until they have ascertained more fully the damage sustained by the growing crop, and, in addition, they are now busily engaged in seeding. The Oat market continues firm, and with a very limited supply and light receipts, prices have advanced and are still tending upward; quotable at 71@72 for mixed, and 73@74 for white. The question arises will not the enhanced cost of this grain curtail the consumption? we answer this in the affirmative, but as there is an actual scarcity, prices will no doubt be maintained until the new crop is ready to market. Corn, on the other hand, under the influence of increased offerings, is decidedly easier, and prices are barely maintained; may be quoted at 85@88 for fair mixed to prime yellow. The supply of this grain is large, unusually so, and a marked decline in prices is not improbable. There is not much doing in Rye and but little offering; we continue to quote nominally at $1,15@1,20. No movement whatever in Barley.

HAY—The market is firmer, and as compared with the date of our last weekly review, prices are a shade higher. Baled quotable at $17@19 for prairie and $22@24 for timothy, as to quality. Loose sold from country wagons, in Allegheny, at $27@35. Oat Straw, baled, $17@18; Wheat Straw, $14@15.

HOMINY—4.25@4.50 ℔ bbl.

HEMP—In fair demand; sales Kentucky rough at $175 ℔ ton.

HIDES—The market is quiet for all descriptions except plump heavy steers, which are in good demand. Kip and Calf are in fair demand and scarce. Prices unchanged. We quote:

Green Salted Cows	5½@6½cts. ℔ lb.
" Steers, Light	9½ "
" " Heavy	10@10½ "
" Calf	12@13 "
Green butcher bulls	5
Green butcher cows	6
Green butcher steers, light	7

LEATHER—The general market is much the same as at last reported. Fine light spready Harness is in good demand; medium weights dull and low; heavy in fair demand; Upper, Kip and Calf are very dull; rough Leather is in better demand. We quote:

Oak Sole, country	0,34@0,37
Oak Sole, city	0,35@0,42
Red Sole, B A. heavy and mid	0,32@0,33
Red Sole, Oronoco	0,29@0,31

Finished Upper, ℔ foot	0,18@0,20
Finished Kips	0,80@0,90

MILL FEED—The market continues quiet and unchanged. Bran, $1.20@1.25; Shorts, Shipstuffs and Seconds, $1.30@1.35; Middlings, $1,45@1.60; Chopped Feed, $1,75@1.80.

OILS—The market for Lard Oil is weaker, in sympathy with Lard, and the demand continues light; extra pure No. 1 quotable at $1.28@1.30; lower grades do., $1.00@1.10. Miners Oil firm at 85@90. Linseed oil, 78@80. Carbon Oil, 11@11½ cents by the carload for standard brands.

MAPLE SYRUP—$1@1.10 for gallon jugs. Maple Sugar, 13@14c ℔ lb.

POTATOES—Continue to come forward freely, and with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, the market is weaker. Peach Blows quotable on track, at 95@$1 per bushel, and Early Rose and Peerless at 85@90—in a jobbing way from store 10@15c ℔ bushel additional.

PROVISIONS—At the packing depots quite a contest has been going on between the bulls and the bears, and temporarily, at least, the bears have the ascendency, especially in Lard, which has suffered a further decline of one-fourth of a cent. Meats are held with much firmness, and it is difficult to buy without paying full prices, while it is almost impossible to sell, except to fill the current consumptive demand, without making concessions.

PEA NUTS—In better demand; sales of choice Tenn. red nuts at 7@7½, as to quality. Choice white wanted here at 9½@10 cents.

POULTRY—Market bare of dressed. Live Chickens, by the coop, 60@70c ℔ pair.

RAGS—Quiet and unchanged; regular sales at 2½@3 cts for good mixed. woolen ½c ℔ lb.

SWEET CORN—5@6c ℔ lb.

SEEDS—Clover, $7.75@8 for medium, and $8.75@9 for mammoth. Timothy Seed, $2.75@3.

SUMAC—Choice Southern, $90 ℔ ton of 2,400 lbs—4½c ℔ lb in a small way.

TALLOW—Steady at 7½ to 8c for prime country, and 8½ to 8¾ for city rendered.

WILLOWS—Choice fine at 11c ℔ lb; large, 10; two-years growth, 7@8.

WOODEN WARE—We quote as follows: No 1 three-hoop tubs, $8.50 ℔ doz; No 2 two-hoop tubs, $7.50; No 3 two-hoop tubs, $6.50; two-hoop pails, $1.90; three-hoop pails, $2.15 ℔ doz; keelers, ℔ nest, $1.50. Globe Wash-boards, $2.75; I. X. L. Wash-boards, $2.35; Kalamazoo clothes-pins (full count) $1.50 per box; round head clothes-pins, $1 ℔ box.

WINDOW GLASS—Trade continues fairly active, but manufacturers still complain of unremunerative rates. No change in discounts; 70 & 5 to 70 & 10 ℔ cent off Pittsburgh list.

PER BOX OF FIFTY FEET—SINGLE STRENGTH.

All over 52 inches in length, and not making 84 united inches, will be charged in 84 united inches bracket. An additional 10 ℔ cent. will be charged for all glass more than 40 inches wide. Orders taken by agents are subject to approval of manufacturers when received.

WHITE LEAD—Trade is steadily improving, although late in opening up; 10c is the regular rate for ton lots of strictly pure, but it is not always adhered to; in a jobbing way, 10¾@11.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 17, 1875.

ALLEGHENY STOCK YARDS.

CATTLE.

The supply was again light, 628 head, all of which with the exception of 30 head, were from Chicago, differing but little from that of last week, either in point of numbers or quality; the great proportion of the offerings consisted mainly of the common and medium grades, of strictly choice beeves the number was small, scarcely equal to the demand. The market was very generally reported as an improvement upon that of last Monday; not only did cattle sell more readily but in most instances better prices were obtained, and we are satisfied that dealers very generally made a little money. There was a pretty full attendance of butchers, many of whom, in consequence of the fact that the supply has been light and prices high for several weeks in succession, had very few if any, in their slaughter-house yards, and we have reason to believe that there were more wanted in consequence; very often butchers keep from two to three weeks' supply on hand, so that when the market is strong and high they can afford to hold over, but the most of them, for the reason stated above, had to buy to-day, and holders consequently were pretty stiff in their views. Butchers continue to complain of very unsatisfactory meat markets, that the consumption is considerably short of what it usually is at this particular time, from which it is evident that the masses have not yet recovered from the effects of the panic; however, there has been an improvement since the works were started up, and there are more cattle required than before during the lockout.

Prime to extra steers, 7¾@7⅞; medium to good, 7@7½; common to fair, 6@6¾. It is worthy of notice that nice fat poney cattle, weighing from 1,200 to 1,300, are more sought after in this market, sell more readily and at better prices than heavier weights; big heavy steers and oxen, averaging 1,500@1,600, no matter how good they may be, do not sell well in this market—our butchers look more at quality than weight, and want beef instead of fat. Fat Cows and Bulls, 4½@5c. Stockers, of which there were but very few, if any, on sale, are quotable at 3½@5 cents, according to quality and condition.

Rothchilds & Bros. sold 11 extra 1,300 beeves to Mr. Barclay, a well-known Pittsburgh butcher, averaging 1,300 pounds, very fine and smooth, at 7,85c.

Following shows the number of cattle on sale, the States they were from as well as the names of the owner or shipper:

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The number on sale although somewhat in excess of that last Monday, was light nevertheless, footing up 725 head, of which 112 were sheep and 164 lambs. The market for sheep was fair; in consequence of the very limited supply holders were enabled to realize full last week's prices, although many of the butchers are still drawing the most of their supplies from East Liberty, and if it were not for this they would have been compelled to pay stronger prices in this market all this year. Prime to extra clipped sheep may be quoted at 5¾@6, and medium to good at 4¾@5¼. There was but one lot of wooled on sale, 48 owned and sold by M Helmes at 6¼. P. Shettmantle sold 50 prime to extra clipped at 5¾@6, the latter for those averaging 133 lbs, and Mr. S. also disposed of 20 lambs at $3,50; M Humes 20 lambs at $2,50@4; J. F. Neely 21 at $2,75@3,40; A. Stakely 19 at $2,75@3,75; John Beeler, 21 at $3@4; R. McCaslin had 14 sheep and 16 lambs, and a Mr. Price had 17 lambs. The market for lambs was very generally reported dull and unsatisfactory, as there were more on sale than could be profitably disposed of.

HOGS.

The market for this class of stock was rather firmer to-day, the supply being light, and prices especially for the best grades, were higher, although there was no improvement in the demand. Sales were made in a retail way at 8½@9 cents for fair to extra fine.

FRESH COWS.

There were 31 reported; the market did not differ much from that of last week, or for that matter, for several weeks. Prime to extra milkers, $60@70 ℔ head; medium to good, $35@50. John Beeler reported 4 at $45 each; P. Sheittmantle 4 at $170 for lot; John Cullen 14 at $60@70 each. Mr. Hall 4 at $35@55 each.

VEAL CALVES.

Are coming in quite freely, the receipts during the past week or two have been unusually large, and the market is easier in consequence. Quotable at 5¾@6 cents for fair to good and 6¾@7 for prime to extra—the latter is now considered an outside price.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 17, 1875.

The Crude market was weaker again to-day, and as compared with Saturday, prices were shade lower; immediate shipment, $1.30@1.32½. There is little or no inquiry for Refined; in the absence of sales it is difficult to give quotations; 10c appears to be the nominal rate, deliverable at Connellsville depot to go to Baltimore. While it would probably be difficult to find sellers at the quotation named, it would be just as difficult, possibly, to find buyers; there is no life or animation in the trade, and the general outlook is not as favorable as it might be by any means. The combination movement, it was supposed, would cause exporters to take hold, but thus far they have not done so.

The Barrel market continues dull, and for countries there is a wide range in prices; sales have been made recently at $1,10, $1,15 and $1,20, the latter for 10 lb iron. City make are still quotable at $1,30.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.
Ironton, R. W. Skillinger, 4 P. M.

THE stage of water last evening was scant 5 feet, and about stationary. Business fair, although there is plenty of room for improvement.

THE Republic landed 13,179 packages at New Orleans and put out 9,000 on the way.

THE towboat Traveler was sold by the United States Marshal, on Saturday, to a Mr. Douglas, for $1,900.

THE John L. Rhoads, Captain J. M. Vandergrift, is announced for St. Louis and the Upper Missouri forthwith.

COMMODORE PARISOT, of the "P." line Yazoo River steamers, says his new boat, now building at Louisville, will be called the letter "P."

JOHN BROSMER has sold his one-half in the Willow Run Coal Harbor to his former partner, E. D. Bateman, who will continue the business.

CAPT. F. Y. BATCHELOR arrived yesterday from Cincinnati by rail, having been detained there after the departure of his boat, the Mollie Ebert.

PILOTS complain that the lights being placed along the upper Ohio for the benefit of steamboats, by the Government, are not being put in the right place to be of any service, that they are really of but little use as at present located. The probability is that they will have to be moved.

MR. JOHN B. DALLAS, formerly of the boat store firm of Evans, Dallas & Gilmore, but now connected with the Missouri Transportation Co., arrived home on Sunday from Yankton on a brief visit. Mr. Dallas is in excellent health and spirits, and is well pleased with the upper end of the "Big Muddy."

THE R. W. Skillinger, Capt. J. T. Russell, is the regular Ironton packet to-day, leaving promptly at 4 P. M. In addition to paying special attention to way business, she will receipt through to Cincinnati and Louisville. The Skillinger is noted for promptness and reliability, and she leaves promptly as advertised.

THE Mollie Ebert arrived from Cincinnati yesterday at 11 A. M., 3½ days out, besides doing considerable way business. She fulfilled her contract with her excursionists to the very letter, and they were all very much delighted with the boat and their trip. As will be seen by card, she is announced for a return trip forthwith.

WHILE the St. James was discharging a lot of cattle at a way landing the other day, a couple of sharpers fleeced a German passengers out of $500 with the game of three-card monte. As soon as Captain Drown heard of the passenger's loss, he ferreted out the sharpers, forcing them to disgorge over $500 of their ill-gotten gains and then banked the gamblers.

LOUISVILLE advices under date of 15th report as follows.—Business dull. The steamer Mary Lewis, for Brashear City, was launched at Jeffersonville this morning. Satterwaite Brothers have contracted with the New Albany Rolling-mill for the transportation of 800 tons of street rails for New Orleans. They ship 100 tons on the C. B. Church to-morrow and other freight.

THE Fanny Tatum arrived from St. Louis yesterday, and, if we mistake not, this is her first appearance at this port, but her captain, John A. Williams, is no stranger, having built the Exporter and other boats here, and the first clerk, Jimmy Greenough, is a Pittsburgh boy, although he has been steamboating below for several years past. The Fanny, as will be seen by card, is announced for New Orleans forthwith.

COMMODORE W. F. Davidson has been going deeper into St. Paul real estate. The Pioneer-Press says he owns, besides other valuable parcels, the opera-house, the lot opposite the post office, between Wabasha and St. Peter streets, and the stone quarry at the corner of Robert and Ninth streets. Subsequently Mr. Carve sold his share to his former partner, Com. Davidson, the whole transaction amounting to about $200,000.

THE Jacksonport Dispatch and Batesville Republican are not satisfied with the manner in which Government has work done, the former of which says:—"The Thomas Trunnel, United States snagboat, has left those waters, and the question arises whether the navigable qualities of White River have been in any degree improved by its $50,000 mission." The Batesville Republican thinks the matter might very properly be investigated.

THE Cincinnati Commercial of Sunday says:—"Eureka" informs us that a new steamboat agency concern is contemplated at Louisville, on the itemizing plan. Freights are to be advertised at "the cheapest place in the city," their programme being to secure freights, receive the same on the wharf, and sell out to the highest bidder. The firm to make their percentage on skids, watching, tarpaulins, receiving and "extra drayage," and not forgetting the little "receiving" (?) book for the summer campaign.

HOME NEWS.

Baptist Social Union.

The Baptist Social Union for Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, will meet this evening in the Nineteenth street Baptist church, South Side. Addresses will be made by Dr. R. W. Pearson, Rev. J. E. Craig and others. A pleasant time may be expected.

Coal Miner Drowned.

Walter Robinson, a coal miner employed at the Eagle coal works, on the Monongahela river, was drowned yesterday afternoon. He was a single man, twenty-six years of age, and came from Steubenville. His parents reside near Glasgow, in Scotland. His friends are desired to come and get what little personal property he left.

Printing Bids and Bills.

At the meeting of the Printing Committee last night the following bids for printing the annual report of the Superintendent of the Water Works were opened: Stevenson & Foster, $47; Nevin, Gribbin & Co., $71; Herald Printing Co., $44; B. Singerly & Co., $115.50. The contract was awarded to the Herald Co., and the bill of Messrs. Stevenson & Foster, amounting to $1,803.98, for printing done for the city up to March, 1875, was ordered to be paid.

Road Matters.

The Road Committee held a special meeting yesterday afternoon, Mr. R. E. Breed in the chair. Mr. MacConnell presented a resolution instructing the City Engineer to examine and report what measures would be necessary to prevent the flow of water off Fifth avenue, on and over the property of Mr. John Bowden and others. Passed. Proposals for grading, paving and curbing Ridge street were opened, and the contract awarded to Messrs. S. R. Johnston & Co., provided they file the necessary papers and bonds with the Solicitor within five days. If the papers are not filed within that time, the contract is to be awarded to Messrs. James Harrison & Son, the next lowest bidders. Adjourned.

An Italian Stabbed.

Francisca Corla, an Italian, was stabbed in the back early yesterday morning by Frank Sellars, a Spaniard, at the Paris hotel, on Liberty street. During the progress of a jubilee the two men got into a quarrel, and as Corla was passing through a doorway Sellars, who was sitting on the corner of a table against the wall and near the door, drew a knife and plunged it into the Italian's back just below the ribs and immediately thereafter ran out into the hall and up stairs. He was arrested by officer Richter soon after and lodged in the Central Police Station. Corla, who is pretty badly cut, is under the care of Dr. Todd.

Pertinacious Thieves.

About eleven o'clock yesterday morning two young men forced open a side door of the residence of a gentleman named Wright, at No. 28 Boyle street, Allegheny, and as there appeared to be no one at home, they proceeded to make the usual search for valuables, but were not very successful. Mr. Wright is a private night watchman on Fifth avenue, in this city, and consequently had to sleep during the day time, of which fact the thieves were probably not aware, as they made a thorough search of the house—Mrs. W. not being at home—until they opened the door into the room occupied by Wright, which wakened him, and he then sprang after them, but they quickly cleared out. They succeeded in getting a few articles of jewelry, but nothing else.

Death of Henry Stewart, Esq.

Intelligence was received in the city last evening of the death of Mr. Henry Stewart, a resident of New Alexandria, but formerly of Pittsburgh. The deceased was well known in business and social circles in Pittsburgh. For thirty years he was engaged in the leather business, the style of the firm being Hays & Stewart. About four years ago the partnership was dissolved, and he retired from active business—removing to New Alexandria, where he has since resided. Mr. Stewart had been in ill health for a year past, but for the past five months has been especially troubled with bronchial consumption, which at last terminated fatally. He was in the sixty-fourth year of his age. He was a good man and his memory will revered.

The remains will be brought to Pittsburgh for interment. The funeral will take place from the residence of his son-in-law, S. L. Gilson, No. 93 River avenue, at a time that will be announced hereafter.

Proposed New Pipe Line.

There is talk among the refiners of West Virginia of laying an oil pipe line from Petrolia or Millerstown, and to run either in a direct line to Beaver, on the Ohio river, or else by way of the Connoquenessing Creek and Beaver river to the same place. The former line would be somewhat shorter, and would not exceed forty miles in length, but by way of the creek named there would be a decided advantage in the cost of pumping the oil, as, for nearly two-thirds of the distance, the oil would run by gravitation. Beaver is situated at the head of continuous navigation, and would, in this particular, have an immense advantage over any other more northerly shipping point. The capacity of the refineries in West Virginia is equal to 2,000 or 2,500 barrels crude per day. These refineries would draw their supplies mainly from this point. Besides, Beaver is much nearer Pittsburgh than Brady's, which is now the nearest point from which shipments by river can be made to Pittsburgh, and it is believed that whether the present policy of the pipes be maintained or not, that the Pittsburgh refiners would prefer to draw their supplies from Beaver rather than from Brady's, as the depth of water between Beaver and Pittsburgh is always much greater than between Brady's and Pittsburgh, thus insuring more regularity in shipments.

WANTED REVENGE.

A Man Fires Two Shots Without Doing Any Damage.

Last night about half past eight o'clock Michael Driscoll went into a saloon at No. 154 Grant street, and after remaining a short time, began to be quite noisy, when he was assigned quarters outside of the room. Just as he was ejected through the door way he turned and fired two shots at the parties within, but fortunately no one was hurt. Driscoll was subsequently arrested by an officer and taken to the Central Station, but strange to say, he had no revolver on his person. He will have a hearing this morning.

THAT CAR CONDUCTOR'S CASE.

The Defendant Held for Court.

The case of the Pittsburgh, Oakland and East Liberty Passenger Railway vs. Philip Loveridge has finally been brought to an issue, and the defendant has been held for Court at the June term. The circumstances in connection with this matter have been fully ventilated in our columns, and though the evidence offered at the final hearing seemed hardly sufficient upon which to hold the defendant, it is supposed that Alderman Black did not care to take the responsibility upon himself of ordering his discharge, but would prefer leaving that to the Grand Jury and a higher tribunal. The required bond was given by Loveridge and he was released. His bondsman said he would not desert him at this stage of his prosecution as he had no doubt whatever of his innocence.

PEDAGOGIC.

Pittsburgh Teacher's Institute—Twenty-fourth Stated Meeting.

The twenty-fourth stated meeting of the Pittsburgh Teacher's Institute will be held on Friday and Saturday next. The evening session will be held in the Bellefield school-house, at Oakland, Friday evening at half-past seven o'clock. The morning session will be held in the Ralston school hall, on Penn avenue, commencing at half-past nine o'clock, Saturday.

The programme on Friday evening will embrace a lecture on "Education and Character," by the Rev. S. F. Scovel, and a select reading by Miss Maggie Campbell.

Saturday morning there will be a class-drill by Miss Lottie Sellers; instruction in the use of "The Eye," by Prof. L. S. Durling; and a discussion, opened by Prof. T. Jeff. Duncan, on "Should the ward school course be extended one year, or should the number of studies be reduced?"

The exercises at each session will be interspersed with music by the Rhinehart Brothers, and the Allegheny Quartette Club.

TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

Regular Weekly Meeting.

The regular weekly meeting of the Allegheny County Temperance Alliance was held at the rooms of the organization on Penn avenue yesterday, T. H. Rabe, Esq., in the chair, and Rev. P. S. Jennings acting as Secretary.

Reports were read by a number of representatives from the different districts, which were received.

The question of Sunday liquor selling was discussed at some length, which resulted in the presentation and adoption of the following resolution, offered by Mr. Kirk:

Resolved, That we call the attention of his Honor, Mayor W. C. McCarthy and his Chief of Police, Mr. McCandless, to the glaring violations of the Sunday liquor law, and respectfully request his earnest attention to its faithful enforcement.

The following committee was appointed to wait upon the Mayor to present the request contained in the resolution passed: Mrs. Allinder, Mrs. Vanhorn, Mrs. Gormley, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Robinson.

A second resolution was adopted which is as follows:

Resolved, That we hail with satisfaction, the efforts of the administration to rigidly enforce the excise laws on whisky distilleries, and we hope they will continue to fight it out on that line if it should take the whole summer to do it, until the good work is crowned with success.

The question which had been selected for discussion was laid over until next week, and there being no further business before the Alliance, it was declared adjourned.

OIL TRANSPORTATION.

The Oil Producers of Clarion on the War Path—Lively Meeting at St. Petersburg—The "Atlantic Line" to be Completed—Communication with Pittsburgh to be Established.

The oil producers of the Clarion region are considerably aroused over the action of the railroad companies in refusing to allow them to connect a branch railroad from their regions, with the Allegheny Valley road. They have, as has heretofore been noted, entered suit in court to secure their rights, and on Saturday last held a meeting at St. Petersburg to discuss the situation. From the Oil City Derrick we gather the following particulars concerning the gathering:

A meeting of producers was held in the Opera House at St. Petersburg, on Saturday afternoon, to discuss the existing condition of petroleum affairs in the Clarion District, and take steps towards securing an independent outlet for the shipment of crude. For several hours before the time appointed for calling the meeting numbers of representative citizens began to arrive from every portion of the surrounding country, giving to the town an appearance of life and bustle vividly suggestive of the palmy days of four dollar oil. Groups of men gathered on the sidewalks for mutual conference, talking earnestly and determinedly of their intention to free themselves forever from any combination hostile to the producing interests of the Pennsylvania region. Soon after two o'clock the meeting was organized by the appointment of Captain Kribbs to preside.

On motion of J. J. Ashbaugh, Joel Fink, John C. Porterfield, J. T. Jones, Smith Cook, H. J. Pierce, John T. Myers and R. J. Eslmer were chosen Vice Presidents. F. H. Barclay, C. H. Vensel, S. W. Harley, T. J. McCullough and F. W. Bowen and J. J. McLaurin, of the Derrick, were unanimously appointed Secretaries.

THE TROUBLE EXPLAINED.

Captain J. T. Jones was the first speaker. He stated at length the circumstances that led to the construction of the Atlantic Pipe Line last winter. Previous to the building of the Antwerp Line the producers of a wide section were wholly dependent on the Sandy Pipe, which exacted fifty cents a barrel for pumping crude to Oil City, and was long a regular monopoly. When the Antwerp was laid the charge was greatly reduced, many of the producers connecting their tanks with the new line. During the winter the officers of the Sandy Line refused to take oil, alleging their tanks were full, nor would the Antwerp give relief to producers, because prevented by the terms of the pipe line combination. Under this state of affairs many wells have been shut down for months, entailing a serious loss upon the owners who were informed by the officials that if Geo. V. Foreman, of Oil City, gave his permission in writing, the Antwerp Line would remove their oil. The producers thereupon decided to seek relief by other means, and set about establishing a line to Sligo. Col. Thomas A. Scott and General Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania road, as well as Mr. John Scott, of the Allegheny Valley road, promptly agreed to put in a switch and supply cars whenever desired, asking only that the projections of the line do without the switch as long as possible, on account of the frost. These railway magnates further said they had eight hundred cars, and would make the oil shipped from Sligo worth more than any other in the petroleum region. These assurances induced the vigorous prosecution of the work, laying a line from Beaver to to Sligo, and providing suitable tankage at the latter point. The railroad authorities were requested to put in the switch as they had promised to do within three days from receiving notice to that effect. An evasive answer was returned, followed by a negative reply to a second request for the switch.

CAUGHT IN THE COMBINATION.

Officers of the line then went to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to have a personal interview with the railroad officials. Some of them expressed regret at the condition of the matter, acknowledged the liability of the road to heavy damages for their refusal, but declared the stipulation of the combination with the pipe lines rendered it impossible to place the switch and furnish transportation for the Atlantic. Colonel Potts, President of the Empire Line, refused assistance, said there were five times more lines now than the business needed, and that he would rather buy out the Atlantic than furnish it cars! He further said "we are after money to get back our investment in the Union line, but in your place I would do the best I could to help myself." President Scott, of the Valley Road, was also seen over a week before the meeting. He thought he could not do anything, but asked for an interview the following day, at which he declared the situation was more complicated than at the previous consultation. Producers would be interested to learn that in the meantime representatives of the various pipe lines had met in Pittsburgh with the railway men and that was what added to the complications! (Sensation.) The speaker further detailed that he and his companions had pressed upon Mr. Scott that all they asked was to handle their own product. The Atlantic pipe had sixty stockholders, all representing wells or oil territory, and already owning a daily yield of two thousand barrels. But all efforts were in vain; the facilities were denied and now they proposed extending the line to Freeport immediately, or to Pittsburgh if need be, there to connect with the Baltimore & Ohio Road. This would afford three outlets and enable them to defy all adverse combinations. Producers were asked to take stock in this scheme and help break a combination descended from the infamous South Improvement Company, if they would not be forever bottled up. They still had credit and money and influence, and should at once proceed to secure an independent outlet for their product. The gallant Captain spoke with great vigor, made a number of telling hits, and was frequently interrupted with tremendous outbursts of applause.

LIVELY SPEECHES.

Mr. Marcus Hulings, President of the Atlantic Pipe Line, was the next speaker. After denouncing the combination entered into by the railroad companies and the pipe lines, he said, the law of the land was flagrantly violated and the Constitution persistently disregarded in granting drawbacks to certain dealers and shippers of oil. Producers had frequently met and resolved, but the time for action had now come. From Butler aid had been promised to the amount of $100,000 towards extending the Atlantic Line to Freeport or Pittsburgh. The method was simple and the plan fully matured for performing the work without delay. Provided funds were forthcoming, a three-inch line would be laid, and by the gods the producers should show they can do it!

Col. Vera was next called upon and made a rattling speech.

They all remembered the lively times of four dollar oil, with open trade and free competition, before unscrupulous manipulators stepped in to interfere with the business of the producers, which a purchasable Legislature had given over to Cleveland and New York. A few counties of Pennsylvania had secured a free pipe bill, but now a combination was organized under a charter granted in the State of New York to run the whole oil business. A committee of five was to have the general management, directing and controlling all the affairs, executing leases and contracts, and making all purchases and sales of oil, just as proposed by the South Improvement Company. The speaker then "pitched into" the monstrous monopoly, and said that its design was to crush the producer. He thought that a little hanging would be healthy. Much had been said about the law of supply and demand regulating the business, yet they were denied even the usual means of conveying oil to such markets as they desired. A railroad track could not be crossed, its owners claiming proprietorship clear up to Heaven and way down to perdition, and should it be attempted to transport oil over the West Penn road in a balloon an injunction would be fired at it. This was the result of defeating the Free Pipe bill, which the Senators of Clarion and Crawford had strenuously opposed, as producers would do well to remember at the next election. But not content with obstructing the passage of a pipe line, the combination sought to blockade a highway created by God himself, and "no more barge oil" had been sounded through the land! There was a limit to human endurance, and that had nearly been reached. Let the producers of Clarion prove that they know their rights, and that the time may soon come when by the living God they dare maintain them! Colonel Vera took his seat amid a perfect tempest of applause.

THE "HARD PAN."

Mr. Hulings narrated a conversation with Captain Stockdale, of Pittsburgh, who said Senator Rutan had informed him last winter that the producers had no show for the Free Pipe bill unless they sent $100,000 to influence legislation at Harrisburg, and overcome seventy-five thousand contributed by the refiners.

J. M. Guffey submitted a resolution pledging adhesion to the Atlantic line, and continued effort to secure its speedy extension, which was carried with much enthusiasm. A committee was appointed to canvass the district thoroughly for subscriptions, and report at a meeting to be held next Thursday afternoon, in Patterson & Dickey's hardware store, Dogtown.

Mr. Hulings explained that the cost of the line to Freeport, including the expense already incurred in laying the Atlantic pipe to Sligo, would be $250,000, but urged raising three hundred thousand dollars in order to provide ample tankage, &c.

A few informal remarks from several gentlemen followed, at the close of which the meeting adjourned.

After the meeting a number of subscriptions were received, making with those formerly received the handsome sum of one hundred and seventy thousand dollars.

There's Millions in It.

Enough for the million and at prices to suit the million. If every other house of the kind should pull up stakes and leave our cities, the citizens north and south of the rivers could still be supplied from this one establishment and they would derive considerable profit from being so supplied. The house to supply them is that of R. Taggart, who has the most extensive assortment of Boots and Shoes in Western Pennsylvania, and who sells cheaper than any other house outside of Lynn or Boston, the great shoe marts—129 Federal street, Allegheny.

STEALING A LOCOMOTIVE.

The Trick of the Sing Sing Convicts Repeated Last Night at the Connellsville Depot—A Number of Men Seize a Locomotive and Run Away With it—Pursuit With the Yard Engine—One of the Thieves Captured.

A few days ago five convicts made their escape from Sing Sing prison, New York, by jumping on a locomotive passing through the yard in which they were at work, compelling the engineer and firemen to dismount, and then taking possession of the engine and running it at lightning speed for about three miles, when the cylinder heads blew off and the convicts took to the woods. One of them was recaptured, but the other four are yet at liberty. This much by way of introduction to a brief account of just such another trick which was attempted last night on the Connellsville railroad, and which so much resembles the Sing Sing affair that it leads to the reasonable conjecture that possibly the same men were engaged in both.

About ten o'clock last night, or a little after, Israel Phillips, engineer of Engine No. 738, brought in his engine to the Connellsville depot, at the corner of Grant and Water streets, and, as is the custom, left it standing in the yard, with only about seventy pounds of steam on. He intended to take out the local freight this morning. He was sitting in the office of L. S. Gailey, the night watchman, when about half past 10 o'clock he heard his engine making a noise as though something was wrong with it, and which plainly indicated to him that it was not in the same condition he left it. He instantly rushed out of the office and reached the track just in time to see his engine rushing up the road at a terrific rate of speed, but who had charge of it, or how many were on it, it was impossible to tell, owing to the darkness. The engine soon disappeared beyond a turn, and Mr. Phillips and Mr. Gailey, with the engineer of the yard engine, jumped on the latter, and, turning on a full head of steam, they started at a rattling pace after the fugitives, who had the advantage of a good distance between them. Some three or four miles up the road they overtook the engine, which Mr. Phillips knew they would soon do, being aware of the fact that the little steam he had left in the engine would soon be exhausted and conjecturing that the men who were on it did not know enough about engineering to replenish the quantity of steam. When they reached the spot where the engine had stopped from the very cause which it was supposed would terminate the flight of the thieves, they saw four or five men jump from the cab and start to run. Phillips, Gailey and the yard engineer immediately following suit, alighted from their engine and commenced pursuit on foot, but only succeeded in capturing one man, who gave his name as John Burns. They returned to the depot as soon as possible, bringing their prisoner and both engines with them, Mr. Phillips knowing that what is called the "wild train" would soon be due, and that an obstruction on the track causes a collision every time. Burns was locked up in the Central Police Station, and Mr. Gailey will appear against him this morning. He refuses to say anything at all, and will not give the names of his companions nor the reason why they took the engine. The theft was a very daring one, and had the stolen engine had plenty of steam up there is no telling what might have happened. This performance looks like a trick, gotten up perhaps for the sake of a joke or to have a little fun, but it may yet bloom into something both interesting and significant.

COUNTY POLITICS.

Settling Differences—The County Committee to Come to Terms—A Conference—Efforts at Harmonizing.

Yesterday afternoon a conference was had between representatives of the County Committee and the committee from Allegheny, in reference to the differences which have arisen from the action of the committee in the matter of appointing delegates, and in representation.

The conference was held at the Lincoln Club Rooms, and the County Committee was represented by Chairman Fulton and Mr. C. S. Fetterman. The Allegheny committee consisted of Messrs. Jno. B. Kennedy, Hugh McNeill, H. M. Long, John Megraw, Wm. Paul, Alexander J. Pentecost and C. W. Miller. Messrs. Bayne, Hunter and Christy were not present.

The first point under discussion was in reference to the delegates to the State Convention. The representatives of the County Committee were prepared to offer any compromise. It was agreed finally that the best way now to settle the difference would be to allow delegates to be chosen by the people from Allegheny, or in any district where the delegates appointed by the County Committee, resigned. A feeling was also manifested, that the selection of the whole list would be relegated to the people, but there was not full time to arrange for the primaries. Under this agreement, accordingly, Allegheny — where arrangements have been partially made—will hold primaries on Saturday next, and the Convention on Monday, at which the delegates will be selected for the North Side.

The next question under consideration was that of representation in the County Convention. Here also there was a disposition manifested on the part of the County Committee to regulate the matter so as to give all a fair representation. This matter was one that was somewhat intricate, inasmuch as it required some figuring to get an approximate idea of a plan to secure the fairest representation. It was finally decided to base it on the total vote in the districts, but a question arose here as to what vote should be taken—that of '72 or of '73. Some thought the law would compel them to take the latter. Eventually, however, it was decided to have the law examined and the basis of representation made accordingly. According to this agreement Allegheny, which polls about one-half of the vote of Pittsburgh, will get one-half as many delegates. As the representation stands, according to the resolution of the committee at its last meeting, the proposition is as 4 to 1 in favor of Pittsburgh. The outside districts, under this new arrangements, will likely have something like a fair show.

In order that these changes may be ratified, Chairman Fulton, said he would call a meeting of the committee within a day or two, as soon as the law in reference to the division could be looked up and the representation calculated.

It is therefore probable that within the next few days the matter will be harmoniously arranged.

THE TRANSGRESSING TRIO.

Discharged by the Court and Arrested by the Police.

Judge Kirkpatrick, sitting in the Court of Common Pleas No. 2, yesterday announced his decision in the case of Surdam, Thomas and Palmer, who were arrested some time ago, as professional thieves, and sentenced by Mayor McCarthy to ninety days' imprisonment in the Work House. Mr. Reardon, attorney for the defendants, made application to the Court for their discharge, on the ground that they had not been arrested at any of the places prescribed by the act of Assembly. Judge Kirkpatrick in announcing the determination of the Court, said that both he and Judge White were of the opinion that the statute did not authorize an arrest under the circumstances, but at the same time they both were strongly convinced that the three men were professional thieves. He considered the action of Mayor McCarthy exemplary in endeavoring to protect the interests of the community, and bring these men to punishment, but the statement seemed to be very clear, both the original and the amended portion which applied to this city, and that the arrest and summary conviction and sentence of the men under the circumstances were not authorized by it. The prisoners were therefore discharged, but they were immediately rearrested in the Court room by detectives Cupples, O'Mara and Rivers on a charge made by Chief-of-Police McCandless, charging them with entering a building with intent to commit a felony. In default of $2,000 bail each, the Mayor committed them for a hearing next Monday.

Geo. W. Walling, Superintendent of Police of New York city, in response to a letter from Chief McCandless, writes as follows: "In reply to yours of the 10th inst., will state in regard to those "people" that the description of George Palmer answers for George "Corvison" or "George Mercer," and that of H. A. Surdam for "Benedict." The description of G. H. Thomas is that of John Price. Have no doubt but that they are Price's gang, and from this city. We do not want them, but would like them to stay away."

A Rising Merchant.

JAMES H. LOH, ESQ. The card of Messrs. Jas. H. Loh & Co of Pittsburgh, which heads one of our columns has received much attention from vast numbers of readers, who eagerly seek the Advocate every week, and especially from those who are particularly interested on the produce commission trade.

The years of Mr. Loh are not many, for he is on the sunny side of thirty but he has passed eleven years in the Produce Trade and he has so improved his opportunities for business that it has become a standing remark in the trade "what Loh doesn't know is not worth knowing." His well directed energy and ability coupled, with a bank account ever ready to make the proper arrangements for consignors have enabled him to build up a very large trade in a comparatively short time. Our readers who have goods to ship to Pittsburgh have always found Mr. Loh to be all that we have ever said for him, and we are not much given to praising people, but our own business experiences with Mr. Loh have been long and varied and we feel assured that those who make his acquaintance through our columns will be apt to retain so pleasant a business connection for many years to come. His recent visit to our city was one of pleasure to our merchants, coupled with sincere regret that he could not stay longer among us, with whom several years of his business life were passed.—Business Advocate and Price Current of Philadelphia.

THE "HOUSEKEEPER" OF OUR HEALTH.

The liver is the great depurating or blood cleansing organ of the system. Set the great housekeeper of our health at work, and the foul corruptions which gender in the blood and rot out, as it were, the machinery of life, are gradually expelled from the system. For this purpose Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with small daily doses of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are pre-eminently the articles needed. They cure every kind of humor from the worst scrofula to the common pimple, blotch or eruption. Great eating ulcers kindly heal under their mighty curative influence. Virulent blood poisons that lurk in the system are by them robbed of their terrors, and by their persevering and somewhat protracted use the most tainted system may be completely renovated and built up anew. Enlarged glands, tumors and swellings dwindle away and disappear under the influence of these great resolvents. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

BY MAIL.

A TELEGRAM from Shreveport, May 16, to the Cincinnati Commercial, says:—Westley beat Lewis six feet; time 9¾ seconds. Lewis' time, 10 seconds. Said to be the best time ever made in the United States. Between $500 and $800 changed hands. Bets of five to one were made on Westley before starting. Lewis was not in good condition. Benjamin S. Lewis, the defeated party, is a well known Red River pilot here, while John Westley, the victor, has long enjoyed the distinction of being considered the champion runner of Texas. Lewis has, however, done some clever work at one hundred yards, and his friends thought so well of his capacity, that about a month ago they matched him against Westley for $500 a side, to run one hundred yards at the Caddo race course. The result of the contest has been given, and it proves to have been a remarkable performance. Although our correspondent is correct in stating that the time is the best on record for the United States, it has been beaten in England, where, in 1844, George Seward ran the distance in 9¼ seconds.

THE Utah left St. Louis on Monday afternoon for Pittsburgh, and has as a part of her cargo 350 tons of old gunboat iron-plating for that city.

The Voice of the Great West.

The voice of the great West accords to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the foremost place among specifics for malarial disease, and this opinion is echoed wherever upon this continent the Bitters have been introduced as a remdey for intermittent and remittent fevers. Those maladies being the peculiar scourge of vast regions of country in the Western and South-western States, it is not surprising that the Bitters should be the great medicinal staple of such localities, or that their inhabitants should regard this article as indispensable in the household. The experience of the western emigrant proves that it is the very best means of acclimating him to unaccustomed air or water; and old residents of fever and ague regions say that it is the only thing that protects them with certainty against the visitation of miasmatic disease. An equally high estimate is placed upon its virtues as a remedy for stomach, bowel and bilious complaints, and as a general tonic and corrective.
